Viet Cong Blow Up 15 U.S. Copters

THE U.S. NAVY'S nuclear-powered submarine Plunger is tied up to a dock by her crew on her arrival at the U.S. navy base in Yokosuka, Japan. She arrived today without incident despite protests by the Communist and Socialist parties that the submarine is a radioactive menace. Some 4,000 policemen were being held in reserve in case there is trouble during the Plunger's four-day visit to give its crew a rest and take on supplies. (UPI Radiotelephoto)

SAIGON (AP)—The Viet Cong blasted their way into the biggest U.S. airfield in the Mekong Delta early today and blew up 15 helicopters worth an estimated $5 million before they were repelled by base defenders.

Another six helicopters were reported damaged in a mortar barrage at the headquarters of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division 40 miles away. One officer called the attacks an "oozing beginning" of the long-awaited enemy offensive in the 14,250-square mile delta south of Saigon.

The Viet Cong attack on Can Tho, 80 miles south of the capital, was the first major ground probe against an allied airfield in several weeks. It hit the headquarters of the U.S. Army's 164th Aviation Group, the nerve center for military operations in the Mekong Delta in the region's biggest city.

6 More Damaged

Enemy sappers broke through the airfield's defenses under cover of a heavy mortar, rocket and machine-gun barrage that pinned down the Americans while the Viet Cong attached explosives to the helicopters. A barracks area west of the airfield was attacked simultaneously.

Field reports said five cargo and troop-carrying Chinooks and 10 smaller helicopter gunships were destroyed or damaged. U. S. casualties were eight killed and 10 wounded.

The U. S Command said: "The enemy soldiers were quickly repelled by airfield security personnel, supported by U.S. Army helicopter gunships and a U.S. Air Force Dragon ship," a fixed-wing aircraft equipped with rapid-firing Gatling guns. A spokesman said the American retaliatory fire killed four Viet Cong.

Forty miles north of Can Tho, Viet Cong gunners slammed about 10 mortar rounds into the 9th Division headquarters at Dong Tam. Field reports said there were no casualties but six helicopters were damaged, including the command chopper of Maj. Gen. Julian Ewell, the division commander.

Ten helicopters were damaged at Dong Tam in a similar shelling three days ago.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported three overnight shellings against two district towns and a provincial capital north and northwest of Saigon. A spokesman said two civilians and one policeman were killed and 19 persons were wounded, including 12 civilians, four soldiers and three policemen.

In other ground fighting near the Cambodian border, South Vietnamese rangers claimed killing 35 enemy soldiers 57 miles northwest of Saigon. Two rangers were killed and 22 wounded, including two American advisers.

In the air war, U. S. headquarters announced that a B52 strike 70 miles southwest of Saigon Sunday killed 20 Viet Cong and wiped out 162 enemy fortifications and 18 sampans.

The giant bombers mounted three more missions Sunday night, dropping more than 500 tons of explosives on enemy bases 60 miles north of Saigon.

New U.S. Initiative 'Unacceptable'

North Viet Further Dims Hope For Starting Talks

PARIS (AP)—North Vietnam, calling a new American initiative "unacceptable," left the United States today with little hope of getting the Vietnam peace conference started in the immediate future.

The United States Sunday offered two more proposals on speaking and seating arrangements for the conference, including what a U.S. spokesman called an "important concession." The North Vietnamese delegation quickly cold-shouldered both offers.

While the word "rejected" was not used and the North Vietnamese agreed to present the proposals to their ally, the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, a U.S. spokesman held out little hope of acceptance.

The "important concession" to which the spokesman referred involved speaking arrangements at the conference. The United States is willing to drop the idea of drawing lots for the order of speaking and permit the other side to arrange its speaking order in any way it chose, in the interest of getting the conference started.

This offer was coupled with another: That the delegations should gather around a table upon which the demarcation designating two sides would be narrowed to a simple line. This was intended to meet the North Vietnamese objection to a previous proposal for a green baize strip across a round table as "to conspicuous."

The argument over the shape of the table involves the quarrel whether there are two or four sides in the conference. The United States and South Vietnam insist there are two; the adversaries say there are four. At stake is the status of the Liberation Front, which is claiming equality at the conference table with the South Vietnamese.

After a 15 minute recess to permit the North Vietnamese representatives to discuss the U.S. proposal, Ambassador Ha Van Lau returned and declared it unacceptable.

U. S. delegate Cyrus R. Vance then put forward an alternative proposal. This also was a package. Instead of meeting at a round table with a strip across it, it could be any shape table at all, with a line across it. The order of speaking once again could be by lots, with the winning side to speak first and the speaking order rotated thereafter.

Lau also rejected this. Vance urged the North Vietnamese to "think it over." But shortly after the meeting, the North Vietnamese issued a communique accusing the United States of "obstinacy" in attempting to present the conference as a two-sided affair.

LBJ Starts Final Week As President

Plans Television Talk Tuesday On State Of Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson starts his final week in office today with some prospect that he might leave to his successor a budget of around $195 billion to operate the government in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a nationally televised and broadcast appearance before a joint session of Congress Tuesday at 9 p.m. EST, Johnson will report on the state of the union as he views it after more than six years in office.

Although he can point to a record run of prosperity during his tenure, Johnson may feel impelled to warn against the rising wave of inflation that has pushed bank loan interest rates to a record high and is reflected in the soaring cost of living.

At home Johnson can point to his administration's programs to grapple with the problems of the breakdown of law and order, racial rioting, decaying cities, water and air pollution, and poverty.

In the international area, the President can cite the prospect that the beleaguered Paris talks eventually may lead to an end to the fighting in Vietnam. He can caution the nations that the explosive situation in the Middle East is a potential spark for a general war, but he must defer to the incoming president, Richard M. Nixon, any definitive answer to the Dec. 30 Soviet note proposing U.N. Security Council action to bring about peace.

Johnson is expected to review the nation's achievements in space exploration and to recommend full-scale continuance of that program.

But it is the budget message, which will follow his farewell report, that has been giving the President the most trouble during his final days in the White House.

Both the State of the Union address and the budget message were delayed by Johnson in the hope that he could coax Nixon into taking a public position on extending the 10 per cent income surtax, now scheduled to expire on June 30.

Promises Leadership, Action

Moore Sworn In As W.Va.'s New Chief Executive

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) —Arch Alfred Moore Jr., taking office today as the state's 28th governor, promised to give West Virginians "the type of leadership and action which will make the man and the office effective instruments of their government."

The 45-year-old ex-Congressman said in his inaugural address that education, roads and "combating the deplorable state of affairs in mental health" will be "primary objectives for the first moves in our program." But he added:

"We shall not be idle or neglectful in other areas. All the services of government are now under new management. It is our intent and determination to make that management efficient, productive and successful."

In outdoor ceremonies, Moore was installed as the Republican successor to Democratic Gov. Hulett C. Smith, ineligible to succeed himself.

State Supreme Court President Frank C. Haymond administered the oath to Moore after the swearing - in of six other elected officials, all Democrats.

These included re - elected State Supreme Court Judge Fred H. Caplan; two new Board of Public Works members — John D. Rockefeller IV as Secretary of State and Chauncey Browning Jr. as Attorney General, and three re-elected board members — Treasurer John H. Kelly, Auditor Denzil L. Gainer and Agriculture Commissioner Gus R. Douglass.

In an inaugural address following his swearing-in, Moore acknowledged his position as a Republican governor in a statehouse where Democrats control both houses of the Legislature by substantial majorities and hold every other elective post. He said:

". . .No one knows better than I that without the confidence, trust and support of friends of different political beliefs than my own throughout West Virginia, I would not have the responsibilities that are turned over to me today. . .

"There have been, and still are, and probably will continue to be, substantial differences between us as to politics, methods and primary needs.

Faces Stiff Questioning By Congress

New Interior Head Being 'Feared' By Conservationists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard M. Nixon's Cabinet choices troop to Capital Hill this week to take their government entrance examinations, and all but Walter J. Hickel can count on friendly questions and high marks.

Hickel, designated secretary of interior in the new Republican administration, is in for searching interrogation by conservationists who fear this man from the last frontier scorns their cherished theories of public land uses as a banana peel on the doorstep of progress.

There's little chance that conservation-minded senators have enough muscle to deny Senate confirmation of Hickel, now governor of Alaska, to his new post. As a rule, senators incline toward the view that a president has a right to pick his own people. But Hickel's opponents have enough questions ready to whip up the biggest controversy over a presidential Cabinet appointee since John F. Kennedy chose brother Robert to be his attorney general eight years ago, and they are determined to do it.

This week will be a busy one for the 91st Congress, still struggling with organizational problems after devoting its first week to such matters as com-

Officers Have No Comment

New Duty Schedule Given To Midland's Police Force

Midland police, who last week protested a new duty schedule drawn up by Mayor Eli Corak, today were working under a revision of that schedule, but apparently still are not satisfied.

Nine officers appeared before Council Wednesday to ciriticize the new work arrangement, saying it left one man at the desk and one in the police cruiser at critical hours, and placed one man on regular parking meter duty.

A revised work plan was set up Saturday afternoon which Police Chief Vincent D'Itri said met the community needs. The officers today said they had no comment.

CHIEF D'ITRI said the latest arrangement provides each patrolman will give up a daylight week every sixth or seventh week, depending upon the turns, and the turns will be shifted back to 4 p.m. and 12 a.m.

He said this would permit full crews — two men in a cruiser and one man at the desk — at all times except in emergencies.

Chief D'Itri explained the background of the work changes from his viewpoint. He said he never has been advised of the need for a reduction in the force.

He said when heads of the departments were called to meet with Mayor Corak to work on the 1969 budget and a raise for the police and borough workers, he was advised by the mayor he would have to work out a schedule utilizing the present force.

"Financially, the mayor said the borough could not put on another policeman at the present time. The mayor also advised me the vacation overtime pay for vacations and sick leave was over $6,000 in 1968, and said somehow had to be held at a minimum. He requested I work out a schedule to give the maximum protection to the community, also putting on a steady meter man.

Grand Jury's Report Due This Afternoon

LISBON — The Columbiana County Grand Jury is scheduled to complete its investigation of criminal matters this morning and inspect the County Jail after lunch.

Judge Joel H. Sharp will receive the jury's report this afternoon in Common Pleas Court.

Sworn in Tuesday, the members worked until 5 p. m. Friday, but finished the day one case and eight witnesses behind schedule despite the overtime. Approximately 40 cases have been investigated.

Harris Looms As Chairman Of Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selection of Fred Harris as Democratic national chairman—a prospect enhanced by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's weekend endorsement —would provide a broader national stage for an Oklahoma senator with star quality.

The folksy, good-loking Harris, who parts his dark hair down the middle, is a solid member of the Senate Establishment while maintaining firm ties among liberals. He already has stirred talk as a possible "sleeper" candidate for the 1972 presidential nomination.

Humphrey made official Saturday his suspected preference for Harris to succeed Lawrence F. O'Brien when the Democratic National Committee meets Tuesday. As titular head of the party, Humphrey's choice is almost certain to be accepted.

"I appreciate the vice president's recommendation," said Harris in a statement. "I am grateful for the enthusiastic support of the national committee members and prominent Democrats from throughout the country."

While the 38-year-old senator, who worked his way from a farm boy to a Phi Beta Kappa key, indicated he had not made a final decision, one of his aides left little doubt that he would accept. 'Chances are good that he is not going to say no if the committee wants him," the aide said.

Chester Fire Routs Family

Florida Ave. Home Of A. L. Lange Hit

A Chester family spent the night with neighbors after fire raged through a two-and-a-half story home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lange of 545 Florida Ave. escaped injury during the blaze, which apparently started as a result of a short in wiring in the top of a closet.

Twenty members and two trucks from the Chester volunteer department responded to the call at 6:15, remaining at the scene nearly an hour and 15 minutes, Chief Alton Johnson said.

The chief estimated damage at $8,000.

Two Men And Girl Injured In Crash At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Two men and a girl, 18, injured in a violent one-car accident on N. Market St. Sunday night, were in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital.

They are Ronald D. Fields, 25, of 417 Blackhaw Rd., Beaver Falls; Denver Black, 27, of Unity, and Kathleen Coleman of E. Martin St., East Palestine.

Police Chief Wallace Dilworth, who termed the accident one of the worst he had seen, said it has not been established who was driving.

The late model car was headed north about 8:30 when it skidded out of control for 270 feet, then slammed into a tree and utility pole.

The vehicle spun around into another tree, the impact ripping open the auto and hurling out Black. The wrecked auto stopped in the middle of the roadway, with the girl and Fields inside.

The auto, owned by Fields, was lifted by a crane onto a lowboy to remove it from the scene. Police said it could not be towed or dragged. Firemen flushed gasoline from the road and crews applied salt where water had frozen. Traffic was limited one-way for more than two hours.

The girl received possible internal injuries. Fields received abrasions of the face and a possible skull fracture and Black suffered cuts of the forehead and abrasions of the face.

Slight Warming Due For Tri-State Area

A slight warming trend is due for the tri-state area today through Wednesday.

The forecast calls for considerable cloudiness and not quite as cold today and tonight, with a few snow flurries. Today's high will be in the lower 20s and tonight's low in the teens.

Tuesday will be partly cloudy and a little warmer, with highs in the mid and upper 20s.

The outlook for Wednesday is for cloudiness and a little warmer.

School Study Group Works On Its Report

A report on East Liverpool's school friction is being prepared by a team of three educators who conferred with some 25 men and women Friday and Saturday.

The three - member panel headed by Robert Dowling of Alliance, former president of the Ohio Education Association, completed its preliminary study Saturday afternoon.

The findings are to be presented to the OEA's Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission and a decision on whether to undertake a full-scale investigation of the school district is expected in two weeks.

Robert McNea, athletic director and football coach, and Clinton McConnell, basketball coach, met with the panel Saturday, as did Supt. Paul H. Blair and all five members of the board of education.

The East Liverpool Teachers Association requested the PRR probe, claiming antagonism in the schools and community was jeopardizing the educational system. The ELTA board of directors met with the Dowling group Friday night.

On the panel are Helen Kovach, Fairport Harbor teacher, and William Quinn, an elementary principal at Canton. Accompanying them were B. I. Griffith, assistant secretary of the OEA, and Rose Mary Studor, manager of Broadcast Services for the OEA.

School Study Group Works On Its Report

A report on East Liverpool's school friction is being prepared by a team of three educators who conferred with some 25 men and women Friday and Saturday.

The three - member panel headed by Robert Dowling of Alliance, former president of the Ohio Education Association, completed its preliminary study Saturday afternoon.

The findings are to be presented to the OEA's Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission and a decision on whether to undertake a full-scale investigation of the school district is expected in two weeks.

Robert McNea, athletic director and football coach, and Clinton McConnell, basketball coach, met with the panel Saturday, as did Supt. Paul H. Blair and all five members of the board of education.

The East Liverpool Teachers Association requested the PRR probe, claiming antagonism in the schools and community was jeopardizing the educational system. The ELTA board of directors met with the Dowling group Friday night.

On the panel are Helen Kovach, Fairport Harbor teacher, and William Quinn, an elementary principal at Canton. Accompanying them were B. I. Griffith, assistant secretary of the OEA, and Rose Mary Studor, manager of Broadcast Services for the OEA.

During Panel Discussion At Lisbon

Students Look At Campus Unrest

LISBON — Three young people from the Kent State University campus participated in a panel discussion on "Unrest—Threat or Promise" Sunday night in the David Anderson High School auditorium.

Approximately 160 parents and students attended the program, which was sponsored by the Lisbon Area Committee on Citizenship and Patriotism.

Ten organizations — Ruritan, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Jaycees, Ministerial Association, American Legion, Key Club, Y-Teens and Lisbon Grange—had representatives on the committee.

PANELISTS were Douglas Conroe of Jamestown, N. Y., crewcut senior history major and campus leader as chief justice of the student high court and president of the men's interhall council; Mary Ann Jackson of Salem, a sophomore who substituted at the last moment for a panelist who was ill, and Donald Thigpen of Jersey City, N.J., a recent KSU graduate now employed by the administration as coordinator of minority affairs on campus. He formerly headed the Black United Students (BUS) at Kent.

They were accompanied by the Rev. William E. Jacobs, director of the United Christian Fellowship House at KSU. He served as moderator and, after the discussion, read questions submitted from the audience.

The Rev. Donald Blom of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church presided. The Rev. Paul Haney of the First Christian Church gave the opening prayer and led the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Glenn Logston of the North Beaver Street Church of Christ pronounced the benediction.

A vocal ensemble of 28 DAHS students sang two selections, accompanied at the piano by Leonard Welch, vocal music instructor.

CONROE took a conservative position. "I supposedly am what you are," he told the nearly all-white audience. He said he believes the unrest is caused by closed-mindedness and bigotry. "People are not willing to look at the problems, face them and work with them — that is the reason we have these disturbances," he said.

Referring to the takeover of a campus building last November by the Students for Democratic Society, he said this was done by only 22 out of 20,115 students at Kent and the news media blew it up completely out of focus. He suggested this type of reporting could result in control of the universities passing to the state—like in California.

Conroe said he believes in working inside the system. He said he thinks the SDS is the greatest threat on our campus today, but he will vote for its recognition on the Kent campus. "Don't shoot at him," he explained, "talk with him; if we can't talk, where are we—San Francisco or Brandeis?"

MISS JACKSON, a last-minute replacement, assisted in the Robert Kennedy campaign. She participated in the SDS demonstration last fall and said it was to protest the Oakland (Calif.) police department recruiters on campus. She said the demonstration involved considerably more than the 200 students who took over the building.

"The unrest that you are seeing now is because a lot of young people and older people, too, are taking a look and getting outside of themselves." She said the SDS will conduct orderly demonstrations during the inauguration of President Nixon.

"We do love our country," she declared, "but we can't say 'our country right or wrong.' We want our country to be right, but we feel it is doing wrong things now, not only at home but abroad." She suggested that the unrest is a promise of better things to come.

"UNREST is neither threat nor promise, it is reality," declared Thigpen. He said his job at the university is to make the system work for black people as well as white people. "I don't see white people as the enemy—just the system, and it so happens that white people as well as black are exploited by the system — however, because of our higher visibility, you can see it more in terms of us.

"We talk of love. Have you found it at church? You read the bible, what does it tell you; love your brother, treat him kindly — it doesn't tell you to exploit him, refuse him a job, keep him down. I don't think it indicates that your brother is white, black, pink or green. You may not want me for a brother, but that is not the point. It is like unrest, I am here, I am real whether you like it or not. I am your brother and you are my sisters and brothers in a greater society than black and white America."

Thigpen pointed out that two-thirds of the earth's population is black or yellow or several shades in between. "I don't feel like a minority, I am in the majority in terms of support and feeling."

Rev. Jacobs, who was engaged in youth work at the University of Pennsylvania before going to Kent, said he is impressed with today's students.

"We used to call them 'the silent generation'," he said, "but now they are concerned about the great issues facing our world. It is terribly refreshing to hear them."

Questions from several listeners indicated a concern whether Miss Jackson and Thigpen are Communists and if the SDS is Communist - influenced. The two panelists answered both questions in the negative.

Five Treated At Salem When Auto Rolls Over

A Lisbon motorist and four passengers in his car were treated at Salem City Hospital as the result of injuries received in an accident on the Trinity Church Rd., about a half-mile south of Route 30, Saturday night at 6:55.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Clifford A. Cusick, 27, of 123½ N. Market St., Lisbon, lost control of his 1959 sedan as he was driving south and the car went off the left side of the road, struck an embankment and rolled over.

Cusick was treated for a bruised scalp, sprained back and neck.

His mother, Mrs. Opel Hazel Cusick, 52, of Lisbon suffered a sprained left arm and bruised forehead.

Mrs. Lawrence Gardner, 58, of Lisbon, RD 4 received an injury to the right leg, hip and neck and a laceration over the right eye.

Teresa Gardner, 17, her daughter, was treated for minor injuries and Gary McQuistion, 17, of Lisbon RD 3 was treated for a bruised left side. All were released.

The sedan was badly damaged on the left side and top.

A Columbiana motorist was cited for failure to halt at a stop sign as the result of a two-car accident on the Fairfield School Rd. about a mile north of Route 558 Saturday at 1:10 p.m.

Harvey A. Gamble, 69, of Box 74, Elkton, was traveling east on the Unionville Rd. As he applied the brakes on his 1962 sedan, it slid into the path of a southbound 1968 coupe driven by Elsie Mae Yokley, 36, of 287 Blueberry Dr., Columbiana.

The Yokley auto struck the right front of the Gamble sedan. There was moderate damage to the right front and side of the Gamble car.

Ronald S. Pillar, 17, of 2135 Harvey Ave. was cited for no brakes after his 1962 truck, which was parked in a private drive on Route 170, about a half-mile north of Route 30, drifted forward and struck a sign.

The incident was timed at 11:40 Saturday morning.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Stretch Egg Breakfasts

DEAR HELOISE: How many of us have gotten up in the morning to find we have only three eggs to feed four people.

Heloise

Here's what I do when faced with this crisis:

I grab a slice of fresh white bread and cube into some small pieces, then add it to my already beaten eggs, milk salt and pepper

Wow!

It not only stretches three eggs to seem like five, but the eggs will be moist and fluffy — never hard and dry.

My family doesn't notice that the bread has been added — it seems to disappear in the mixture.

Try it! You'll never want to fix scrambled eggs any other way.

RUTH LABONTE.

I cackled like the little red hen when I read Ruth's letter. It's fantastic.

I added a pinch of baking powder to the beaten eggs first. Makes 'em real nice and fluffy.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have a bridge?

PARTIAL.

Yes, and its name is not London. I heard that one has moved to Arizona.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When reinforcement rings for looseleaf pages are needed, I cut off and use the gummed area from "junk mail" envelope flaps.

For quick and easy double reinforcements, just bend a strip of the gummed paper over a torn edge so both sides will be mended at once. Then punch new hole.

They are especially useful when index tabs are needed. Just bend a strip over both sides of the edge of the paper, leaving enough of the strip extended for desired size of tab.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: The hint telling how to make throwaway bibs with paper toweling by putting many pieces of paper together and using odds and ends of bias binding around the neck to hold them together was good.

I put a layer of waxed paper between the two layers of toweling, thus giving more protection.

I also add another touch.

When rounding the corners, I use my pinking shears and cut clear around them. So easy to make.

MRS. ED CRAMMER.

DEAR HELOISE: You know how powder can soil a dark dress around the neck?

I use a small piece of wool cut from an old suit. Just rub it over powder smtars and it will remove it without a trace.

I've tried this on just about every material and it works.

DOROTHY WALKER.

It shore-do, Honechile.
You're the dream boat that just sailed into our harbor!
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Since my husband can never find the clothes he wants in his closet, I divided them in categories such as dress clothes, work clothes, yard clothes, etc., and wrote each category on adhesive tape which I stuck to the clothes bar itself.

No more problems now and a MUCH neater closet.

MRS. GRAY.

DEAR HELOISE: I have several favorite dresses with roll collars, but when I pack them for a trip, they arrive with a crease in the center front.

So now I fold a long piece of tissue paper, twist it three or four times, and pin it under the collar.

BESS DUNNING.

The DOCTOR Says

Avoid Overdosage Of Female Hormones

Q—I had a Pap test four months ago which was negative. After 18 months without any menstrual periods I have had a little bleeding for the last two months. What could cause this? Is an operation necessary?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Women in the menopause are often given female hormones by their doctors. An overdose may cause uterine bleeding. If the dosage is properly adjusted and the bleeding persists some doctors recommend surgical removal of the uterus.

Q — I am past 51. I recently had a D and C to control uterine bleeding. How does this operation help? Could a D and C make the periods stop permanently?

A — Dilation and currettage (scraping) of the uterus is done to remove polyps and other possible causes of bleeding. In a woman not yet in the menopause it would not cause a cessation of menstruation.

Q—I am 55 and had a Pap smear and was negative. My doctor says I need a scraping. What could be the reason?

A—Even more important than its use as treatment, a D and C is done to get material for diagnostic examinations.

Q—How does chronic cervictis affect a woman? Is there any cure?

A — Severe inflammation of the uterine cervix may cause infertility or painful intercourse. The usual treatment is cauterization by heat or chemicals. This treatment is not painful.

Q—My doctor says I have a cervical erosion. Is douching the only treatment?

A — A cervical erosion, contrary to what the term implies, is not a denuding of the cervix but a replacement of one type of lining membrane with another. It may be congenital or it may occur in response to certain hormones — a physiological reaction. It is not precancerous and is rarely seen in women who have passed the menopause. It usually causes no symptoms but may be associated with a vaginal discharge or bleeding, in which case cauterization is sometimes performed. Since douching is now believed to accomplish no good purpose, doctors tend to discourage the practice.

Q—What is a resting endometrium?

A — The endometrium is the inner lining of the uterus. In the interval between menstrual periods it is said to be resting.

Q.—I am 60 and have been wearing a pessary for 18 months for a fallen womb. Will it cause cancer?

A—No.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Stretch Egg Breakfasts

DEAR HELOISE: How many of us have gotten up in the morning to find we have only three eggs to feed four people.

Heloise

Here's what I do when faced with this crisis:

I grab a slice of fresh white bread and cube into some small pieces, then add it to my already beaten eggs, milk salt and pepper

Wow!

It not only stretches three eggs to seem like five, but the eggs will be moist and fluffy — never hard and dry.

My family doesn't notice that the bread has been added — it seems to disappear in the mixture.

Try it! You'll never want to fix scrambled eggs any other way.

RUTH LABONTE.

I cackled like the little red hen when I read Ruth's letter. It's fantastic.

I added a pinch of baking powder to the beaten eggs first. Makes 'em real nice and fluffy.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have a bridge?

PARTIAL.

-:-

Yes, and its name is not London. I heard that one has moved to Arizona.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When reinforcement rings for looseleaf pages are needed, I cut off and use the gummed area from "junk mail" envelope flaps.

For quick and easy double reinforcements, just bend a strip of the gummed paper over a torn edge so both sides will be mended at once. Then punch new hole.

They are especially useful when index tabs are needed. Just bend a strip over both sides of the edge of the paper, leaving enough of the strip extended for desired size of tab.

PEARL E. FITZPATRICK.

-:-

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: The hint telling how to make throwaway bibs with paper toweling by putting many pieces of paper together and using odds and ends of bias binding around the neck to hold them together was good.

I put a layer of waxed paper between the two layers of toweling, thus giving more protection.

I also add another touch.

When rounding the corners, I use my pinking shears and cut clear around them. So easy to make.

MRS. ED CRAMMER.

DEAR HELOISE: You know how powder can soil a dark dress around the neck?

I use a small piece of wool cut from an old suit. Just rub it over powder smtars and it will remove it without a trace.

I've tried this on just about every material and it works.

DOROTHY WALKER.

It shore-do, Honechile.
You're the dream boat that just sailed into our harbor!
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Since my husband can never find the clothes he wants in his closet, I divided them in categories such as dress clothes, work clothes, yard clothes, etc., and wrote each category on adhesive tape which I stuck to the clothes bar itself.

No more problems now and a MUCH neater closet.

MRS. GRAY.

DEAR HELOISE: I have several favorite dresses with roll collars, but when I pack them for a trip, they arrive with a crease in the center front.

So now I fold a long piece of tissue paper, twist it three or four times, and pin it under the collar.

DOCTOR

Says

Avoid Overdosage Of Female Hormones

Q—I had a Pap test four months ago which was negative. After 18 months without any menstrual periods I have had a little bleeding for the last two months. What could cause this? Is an operation necessary?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Women in the menopause are often given female hormones by their doctors. An overdose may cause uterine bleeding. If the dosage is properly adjusted and the bleeding persists some doctors recommend surgical removal of the uterus.

Q — I am past 51. I recently had a D and C to control uterine bleeding. How does this operation help? Could a D and C make the periods stop permanently?

A — Dilation and currettage (scraping) of the uterus is done to remove polyps and other possible causes of bleeding. In a woman not yet in the menopause it would not cause a cessation of menstruation.

Q—I am 55 and had a Pap smear and was negative. My doctor says I need a scraping. What could be the reason?

A—Even more important than its use as treatment, a D and C is done to get material for diagnostic examinations.

Q—How does chronic cervictis affect a woman? Is there any cure?

A — Severe inflammation of the uterine cervix may cause infertility or painful intercourse. The usual treatment is cauterization by heat or chemicals. This treatment is not painful.

Q—My doctor says I have a cervical erosion. Is douching the only treatment?

A — A cervical erosion, contrary to what the term implies, is not a denuding of the cervix but a replacement of one type of lining membrane with another. It may be congenital or it may occur in response to certain hormones — a physiological reaction. It is not precancerous and is rarely seen in women who have passed the menopause. It usually causes no symptoms but may be associated with a vaginal discharge or bleeding, in which case cauterization is sometimes performed. Since douching is now believed to accomplish no good purpose, doctors tend to discourage the practice.

Q—What is a resting endometrium?

A — The endometrium is the inner lining of the uterus. In the interval between menstrual periods it is said to be resting.

Q.—I am 60 and have been wearing a pessary for 18 months for a fallen womb. Will it cause cancer?

A—No.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Communication On The Campus

Gov. James A. Rhodes' proposal to establish formal lines of communication between college and university trustee boards and students and faculty is certain to be controversial because it deals with a legislative issue.

The governor has requested the General Assembly to pass legislation that would add three nonvoting members to the state's university and college governing boards.

The members would be the president of each institution, a faculty representative and an undergraduate student.

CRITICS ARE SURE to point that trustee meetings already are open to student and faculty representatives if they want to attend and the president attends all the sessions in a liason and leadership capacity.

Adoption of the proposal would emphasize the trustees' desire to listen to student and faculty views by placing an official stamp on their representatives.

At the core of the concept is the hope that a two-way flow of understanding will help head off crisis situations that have spawned disruption and chaotic disorder on many American campuses.

Probably the biggest drawback to the suggested program is the likelihood that it will be misinterpreted by students and faculty as an exercise in tokenism.

The only way its validity can be proved is for the program to be put into practice and for student and faculty representatives to use it purposefully and in the spirit it was conceived.

We recognize that nothing short of handing over the keys to a university would satisfy today's campus radicals. So they are not going to be impressed with this effort and will attempt to discredit it.

The influence of these students should not be minimized but neither should it be exaggerated. Their power will never match that of university authorities because of their role as a receiver —rather than a dispenser—of wisdom and their transience in the institutional framework.

Many students and educators are with anthropologist Margaret Mead, who is a member of the Columbia University faculty, that "the present style of university management is obsolete."

The restructuring process—where and how? —is the hangup.

Some institutions are experimenting with appointment of student, faculty and administration committees to recommend decisions to governing boards on key concerns.

The Kentucky Legislature last year adopted a law providing for nonvoting student representation on governing boards of state collegiate institutions.

A SPOKESMAN at the University of Kentucky has expressed satisfaction with the student participation experiment and reports a favorable reaction from students and administrators. The Lexington campus has experienced only one minor student demonstration, officials report, and that stemmed from a recruiting incident.

The Kentucky school also has a nonvoting faculty representative on its board of trustees as provided by a state statute adopted several years ago.

In light of the dramatic change taking place in our institutions of higher learning and the urgent need for understanding through dialogue rather than destruction, Columbus legislators are duty-bound to give the governor's proposal more than a cursory inspection.

Great Game

Wives and girlfriends in the tri-state area, weary of long Sunday and holiday afternoons of professional football, were dragged into deeper mysteries of the game yesterday.

Males of the family seemingly were astonished at the turn of events at Miami which left the underdog exultant victors, which tarnished the awesome reputation not only of the young horses from Baltimore but the venerable NFL.

While most females were unable to grasp the significance of the Super Bowl score, the masculine mind marveled at the unerring mouth and arm of modest Joseph Namath of Beaver Falls, the capable field goal talents of Jim Turner, kicker, and Babe Parilli of Rochester, holder, and the running power of Matt Snell of Ohio State who, with the interior offensive line and the defensive unit of the Jets, fashioned this bit of history in U.S. sports.

Even the gals realized this was a great game.

Puffing Pace Slows Slightly

Saturday was the fifth anniversary of the well-remembered report to the U.S. surgeon general from an advisory committee on smoking and its effect on health.

The report found that: "Cigarette smoking is a health hazard of sufficient importance to warrant appropriate remedial action."

It linked smoking with lung cancer, arteriosclerotic, coronary and degenerative heart disease, chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

THE COMMITTEE CONCLUDED that: "Cigarette smoking contributes substantially to mortality from certain specific diseases and to the over-all death rate."

Following the report, cigarette sales dipped momentarily before resuming their steady upward climb.

The Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act of 1965 required that all cigarette packages carry the warning: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Dangerous to Your Health."

Sales continued to climb.

A 1967 report issued by the Public Health Service supported the original Smoking and Health report. Health hazard claims are no longer challenged. The facts speak too plainly.

Attempts to promote stronger government action in the smoking-health issue, such as banning cigarette advertising from television, have met failure.

Recent developments indicate, however, that health warnings are impressing some people.

An American College Health Association report last November claimed that 62 per cent of Northwestern University students do not smoke.

On a nationwide basis, some 526.5 billion cigarettes went up in smoke last year, down from 527.8 billion in 1967.

It was the first time since 1964 that producers sold fewer smokes than they did the year before.

WHATEVER HAPPENS in cigarette smoking has an economic application also.

The tobacco industry does a $9 billion business a year—providing federal, state and local governments with annual revenues totaling more than $3.7 billion.

In Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia, tobacco is the most valuable crop. In Maryland, Massachusetts and Tennessee, it ranks as the second cash crop.

The tobacco industry, in an effort to solve the dilemma, is pouring millions into research for a "safe" cigarette—one that has harmful gases, tar and nicotine removed.

Development of such a cigarette has been predicted and some progress has been made. Its arrival would put a great many minds at ease.

Letters To The Editor

Remark Condemned

Although my family and I now reside in East Liverpool, I was appalled by a derogatory remark about Wellsville's school system published in Tuesday's Review.

I believe the person responsible for the remark owes an apology to the town of Wellsville, to Wellsville's board of Education and most certainly to Mr. Donald Lowe who in my opinion is one of the best educators to be found anywnere.

The type of turmoil now existing in the East Liverpool school system has never presented itself in Wellsville. Sports there are still played primarily for the fun of it and to promote good sportsmanship. When it becomes a big business for profit - making, as it apparently has here, it should be dropped from the curriculum.

As far as I know, the wishes of the majority of Wellsville faculty have never been shunted aside to appease one person. Neither have children ever been required to pay $1 in order to receive their report cards. Many people in East Liverpool are not aware of this, but it is happening now.

This fee was started three years ago when there was not sufficient levy money. Today we have effective levies, but any child not paying the $1 fee does not receive a report card. A call to the state superintendent's office told me that the school is legally bound to report periodically to the parents of any school child.

However, this is East Liverpool, which is so far superior to Wellsville, Beaver Local and other surrounding areas.

Also, I believe high school students in Wellsville can join organizations without subscribing to the school paper.

I have always believed in pushing any levy for educational purposes. Since our board chooses to disregard the report of the Sebold team, I feel that the best interests of our teachers and our children are not being served.

I, for one, will never vote for a new levy issue until our board of education begins to act as if schools are for children. This dictatorial regime now existing must go, or else schools will be dragged through even more mud.

Your thoughtfulness made my Christmas here in Vietnam a lot happier. All of the food was shared with the guys in my section. I can't find the words to express our gratitude. 'Spare That Tree!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Foreign Royalty Paid Well

WASHINGTON — A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy, according to a well-placed source close to the late Henry VI. But not for want of petty cash. The going rates for emperors and kings, dukes and queens, is far better than the commoner, Richard Nixon, will get.

Victor Riesel

This column did a swift survey of the going rates for heads of state and it's obvious that we are shortchanging our presidents. Even at $200,000 a year, President Nixon will be receiving some $66,000 less than Grand Duke Jean of Luxembourg.

Obviously Mr. Nixon, as a plebeian, is running far behind the crowned heads of Europe. He may want to continue his wooing of American labor by asking for a federal union charter for himself.

Those Scandinavian kings obviously have a royal local of some kind. Denmark's Frederik IX, Norway's Olav V and Sweden's Gustavus VI Adolphus average about $645,000 annually. The Danish monarch appears to be a better collective bargainer. He has a cost-of-living escalator clause written into the statute on the regal stipend.

BUT HE DOES HAVE to care for a castle or two — one of which, Elsinore by name, does pretty well, as tourists come in search of the melancholy Dane.

Apparently there's a better going rate for queens. The total royal allowance for Her Majesty, the gracious Elizabeth of Britain, comes to $1.1. million. On this allowance she does maintain a palace or two. But Prince Charles is no burden. Next November, when he turns 21, he'll inherit an income of some $480,000.

From the Netherlands embassy comes word that the Dutch queen receives some $1.4 million annually. The largesse in the Hague shames us. The queen was getting but $600,000 until recently. Then, not only was the allowance increased, but it was hiked retroactively.

And right next door in Belgium, King Baudouin I receives $840,000 annually. He too has a cost-of-living escalator arrangement. When the king was a bachelor, his income was lower—$720,000 a year. A romantically generous constitution allows him another $120,000 to care for his new queen.

Young King Constantine II did not do badly before the putsch. He received $600,000 annually, but there was aways the palace. There is some doubt now whether or not he is receiving his money in absentia. But it's worth noting that the going rate for royalty in Athens was better than $11,000 a week.

AND THEN THERE IS the Emperor of Japan. The Japanese, who may get a bit proletarianly tumultuous and temperamental in the streets, respect their monarch. Just about a year ago, they raised his income from $189,000 to $233,000 a year because of rising prices. It all sounds more awesome in Japanese currency — 84 million yen now, compared with 68 million in 1967. And you do get more for your yen than for the dollar if you know where to buy.

With this income, Emperor Hirohito must care for Empress Nagako and Crown Prince Akihito. And that fascinating palace and those magnificent horses.

And then there is the nervous "little king," Jordan's Hussein. When in Hebron recently, I inquired of some substantial citizens. The king has a large personal fortune. But he's not keeping it in Amman these days. His tiny kingdom gives him $140,000 annually. Compare this with Mr. Nixon's $200,000 and the $100,000 of past presidents.

IT'S NOT ALWAYS easy to learn the pay scales of monarchs. Embassies are horrified by curious questioners.

At the Libyan embassy, for example, because of the new wealth, I asked after the pay of King Mohammed Idras el Senussi. The lady was shocked that anyone would ask. But it does run close to a million a year, I hear.

When I tried either the missions or embassies of such royal kingdoms as Cambodia, Kuwait, Morocco, Nepal and Saudi Arabia, I could have frozen a martini on the iciness. Other kingdoms, such as Afghanistan and Thailand, were surprised, horrified and unnerved that anyone should think in terms of paying a king.

Out of all this came one certainty — Americans, judging by what other peoples do for their first families are mighty chinchy with ours.

Avoiding More Vietnams

Whatever may be the outcome of the current Paris negotiations, we already have paid a great price for our rescue operation in Vietnam. But it should be some compensation if we have learned that while our sea and air power can help in resisting Communist aggression, the major effort must come from within the threatened country.

I have shown in a piece published two weeks ago that the initial gains of the Viet Cong were possible because the government of Saigon had dragged its feet in implementing the plans for land reform promised in the settlement in 1954. For an exploited and unhappy peasant population is always a breeding ground for Communist subversion.

IN ANOTHER PIECE a week ago, I described the highly successful land reform in Taiwan where after a few years 85 per cent of the farmers owned 90 per cent of the tillable land.

A useful objective in the future is to find means to carry the lessons learned in Taiwan to the many countries over the world which are in a process of development but are still ridden by various species of landlordism. A critical need in resisting communism is the strength and will provided when those who till the land enjoy a sense of ownership.

This is especially true of the countries on the perimeter of Red China from Iran to Japan.

This subject was considered in two international conferences sponsored by the John C. Lincoln Institute of the University of Hartford. The first of these was at Hartford in October, 1966. The second was held at the invitation of the government of Taiwan at the National Cheng Chih University in Taipei, Taiwan.

At the latter there were in attendance delegates from the free countries of Asia, from Australia and New Zealand, England and the United States. At both conferences, there was a representative of the Vatican. (A volume containing the papers read at the 1967 conference can be obtained from the John C. Lincoln Institute of the University of Hartford).

There was general agreement among the delegates in 1967 that there was need for a training institution geared to the problem of landreform in developing countries. Subsequently a plan for such a center was drawn up by the people at Hartford in co-operation with the U.S. Food and Agricultural Organization, the U.S. State Department and the Agency for International Development.

It was clear that such a training center should be located in Taiwan and that the successful program there should be used as a model for other countries.

Accordingly, an agreement was concluded between the institute at Hartford and the Council for International Economic Development of the Republic of China, Taiwan. The government will provide the building and living quarters and the John C. Lincoln Institute will finance the expenses of trainees and the compensation of the staff of instruction.

The agreement provides for an institution called the Land Reform Training Institute. Instruction will be by faculty members of Taiwan universities and from the Hartford Institute.

THE TRAINEES WILL BE government officials, whose main concern is land, from the Philippines, South Korea, Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia and Iran (perhaps also South Vietnam). In some of these countries, notably South Korea and Iran, land reform plans are already under way.

Thus, by encouraging and by supplying trained personnel, this new institute will contribute toward the maintenance of free political and economic institutions in the countries concerned. For communism almost always seeks conquest by promising land reform. But these pretensions are spurious because communism would merely replace the exploitation of landlordism with the tyranny of state or communal ownership.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A woman approached the counter of the state liquor store here to pay her gas bill. When informed of her mistake, "she virtually fled from the building."

Mrs. Ethel Smith was installed as president of the Daughters of the Union Veterans.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Robert Hindes was elected president of the J.T.G. Club at the home of Mrs. Leonard Kupchinsky of Harvey Ave.

John E. Herron and John Mayhew, members of the Fairview Grange in Pughtown, were named to a Hancock County soil conservation group.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Board of Education officially endorsed the proposed transfer of the Hillcrest area in the Southern Local School district to Wellsville.

Flames leveled a two-story Price St. Ext. home, with the loss estimated at $10,000.

Retail business in Columbiana County wound up 1958 on an encouraging note, with sales for the last week of the year far ahead of the final week of 1957.

Communication On The Campus

Gov. James A. Rhodes' proposal to establish formal lines of communication between college and university trustee boards and students and faculty is certain to be controversial because it deals with a legislative issue.

The governor has requested the General Assembly to pass legislation that would add three nonvoting members to the state's university and college governing boards.

The members would be the president of each institution, a faculty representative and an undergraduate student.

CRITICS ARE SURE to point that trustee meetings already are open to student and faculty representatives if they want to attend and the president attends all the sessions in a liason and leadership capacity.

Adoption of the proposal would emphasize the trustees' desire to listen to student and faculty views by placing an official stamp on their representatives.

At the core of the concept is the hope that a two-way flow of understanding will help head off crisis situations that have spawned disruption and chaotic disorder on many American campuses.

Probably the biggest drawback to the suggested program is the likelihood that it will be misinterpreted by students and faculty as an exercise in tokenism.

The only way its validity can be proved is for the program to be put into practice and for student and faculty representatives to use it purposefully and in the spirit it was conceived.

We recognize that nothing short of handing over the keys to a university would satisfy today's campus radicals. So they are not going to be impressed with this effort and will attempt to discredit it.

The influence of these students should not be minimized but neither should it be exaggerated. Their power will never match that of university authorities because of their role as a receiver —rather than a dispenser—of wisdom and their transience in the institutional framework.

Many students and educators are with anthropologist Margaret Mead, who is a member of the Columbia University faculty, that "the present style of university management is obsolete."

The restructuring process—where and how?—is the hangup.

Some institutions are experimenting with appointment of student, faculty and administration committees to recommend decisions to governing boards on key concerns.

The Kentucky Legislature last year adopted a law providing for nonvoting student representation on governing boards of state collegiate institutions.

A SPOKESMAN at the University of Kentucky has expressed satisfaction with the student participation experiment and reports a favorable reaction from students and administrators. The Lexington campus has experienced only one minor student demonstration, officials report, and that stemmed from a recruiting incident.

The Kentucky school also has a nonvoting faculty representative on its board of trustees as provided by a state statute adopted several years ago.

In light of the dramatic change taking place in our institutions of higher learning and the urgent need for understanding through dialogue rather than destruction, Columbus legislators are duty-bound to give the governor's proposal more than a cursory inspection.

Great Game

Wives and girlfriends in the tri-state area, weary of long Sunday and holiday afternoons of professional football, were dragged into deeper mysteries of the game yesterday.

Males of the family seemingly were astonished at the turn of events at Miami which left the underdog exultant victors, which tarnished the awesome reputation not only of the young horses from Baltimore but the venerable NFL.

While most females were unable to grasp the significance of the Super Bowl score, the masculine mind marveled at the unerring mouth and arm of modest Joseph Namath of Beaver Falls, the capable field goal talents of Jim Turner, kicker, and Babe Parilli of Rochester, holder, and the running power of Matt Snell of Ohio State who, with the interior offensive line and the defensive unit of the Jets, fashioned this bit of history in U.S. sports.

Even the gals realized this was a great game.

Puffing Pace Slows Slightly

Saturday was the fifth anniversary of the well-remembered report to the U.S. surgeon general from an advisory committee on smoking and its effect on health.

The report found that: "Cigarette smoking is a health hazard of sufficient importance to warrant appropriate remedial action."

It linked smoking with lung cancer, arteriosclerotic, coronary and degenerative heart disease, chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

THE COMMITTEE CONCLUDED that: "Cigarette smoking contributes substantially to mortality from certain specific diseases and to the over-all death rate."

Following the report, cigarette sales dipped momentarily before resuming their steady upward climb.

The Federal Cigarette Labeling and Advertising Act of 1965 required that all cigarette packages carry the warning: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Dangerous to Your Health."

Sales continued to climb.

A 1967 report issued by the Public Health Service supported the original Smoking and Health report. Health hazard claims are no longer challenged. The facts speak too plainly.

Attempts to promote stronger government action in the smoking-health issue, such as banning cigarette advertising from television, have met failure.

Recent developments indicate, however, that health warnings are impressing some people.

An American College Health Association report last November claimed that 62 per cent of Northwestern University students do not smoke.

On a nationwide basis, some 526.5 billion cigarettes went up in smoke last year, down from 527.8 billion in 1967.

It was the first time since 1964 that producers sold fewer smokes than they did the year before.

WHATEVER HAPPENS in cigarette smoking has an economic application also.

The tobacco industry does a $9 billion business a year—providing federal, state and local governments with annual revenues totaling more than $3.7 billion.

In Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia, tobacco is the most valuable crop. In Maryland, Massachusetts and Tennessee, it ranks as the second cash crop.

The tobacco industry, in an effort to solve the dilemma, is pouring millions into research for a "safe" cigarette—one that has harmful gases, tar and nicotine removed.

Development of such a cigarette has been predicted and some progress has been made. Its arrival would put a great many minds at ease.

Letters To The Editor

Remark Condemned

Although my family and I now reside in East Liverpool, I was appalled by a derogatory remark about Wellsville's school system published in Tuesday's Review.

I believe the person responsible for the remark owes an apology to the town of Wellsville, to Wellsville's board of Education and most certainly to Mr. Donald Lowe who in my opinion is one of the best educators to be found anywnere.

The type of turmoil now existing in the East Liverpool school system has never presented itself in Wellsville. Sports there are still played primarily for the fun of it and to promote good sportsmanship. When it becomes a big business for profit - making, as it apparently has here, it should be dropped from the curriculum.

As far as I know, the wishes of the majority of Wellsville faculty have never been shunted aside to appease one person. Neither have children ever been required to pay $1 in order to receive their report cards. Many people in East Liverpool are not aware of this, but it is happening now.

This fee was started three years ago when there was not sufficient levy money. Today we have effective levies, but any child not paying the $1 fee does not receive a report card. A call to the state superintendent's office told me that the school is legally bound to report periodically to the parents of any school child.

However, this is East Liverpool, which is so far superior to Wellsville, Beaver Local and other surrounding areas.

Also, I believe high school students in Wellsville can join organizations without subscribing to the school paper.

I have always believed in pushing any levy for educational purposes. Since our board chooses to disregard the report of the Sebold team, I feel that the best interests of our teachers and our children are not being served.

I, for one, will never vote for a new levy issue until our board of education begins to act as if schools are for children. This dictatorial regime now existing must go, or else schools will be dragged through even more mud.

packages and cards for Christmas.

Your thoughtfulness made my Christmas here in Vietnam a lot happier. All of the food was shared with the guys in my section. I can't find the words to express our gratitude. I suppose just "thank you very much" will have to be sufficient. So, on behalf of the scouts, Charlie Troop, First Squadron, 9th Cavalry, First Air Cavalry Division (Airmobile), thank you all very much.

VICTOR RIESEL

Foreign Royalty Paid Well

WASHINGTON — A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy, according to a well-placed source close to the late Henry VI. But not for want of petty cash. The going rates for emperors and kings, dukes and queens, is far better than the commoner, Richard Nixon, will get.

Victor Riesel

This column did a swift survey of the going rates for heads of state and it's obvious that we are shortchanging our presidents. Even at $200,000 a year, President Nixon will be receiving some $66,000 less than Grand Duke Jean of Luxembourg.

Obviously Mr. Nixon, as a plebeian, is running far behind the crowned heads of Europe. He may want to continue his wooing of American labor by asking for a federal union charter for himself.

Those Scandinavian kings obviously have a royal local of some kind. Denmark's Frederik IX, Norway's Olav V and Sweden's Gustavus VI Adolphus average about $645,000 annually. The Danish monarch appears to be a better collective bargainer. He has a cost-of-living escalator clause written into the statute on the regal stipend.

BUT HE DOES HAVE to care for a castle or two — one of which, Elsinore by name, does pretty well, as tourists come in search of the melancholy Dane.

Apparently there's a better going rate for queens. The total royal allowance for Her Majesty, the gracious Elizabeth of Britain, comes to $1.1. million. On this allowance she does maintain a palace or two. But Prince Charles is no burden. Next November, when he turns 21, he'll inherit an income of some $480,000.

From the Netherlands embassy comes word that the Dutch queen receives some $1.4 million annually. The largesse in the Hague shames us. The queen was getting but $600,000 until recently. Then, not only was the allowance increased, but it was hiked retroactively.

And right next door in Belgium, King Baudouin I receives $840,000 annually. He too has a cost-of-living escalator arrangement. When the king was a bachelor, his income was lower—$720,000 a year. A romantically generous constitution allows him another $120,000 to care for his new queen.

Young King Constantine II did not do badly before the putsch. He received $600,000 annually, but there was aways the palace. There is some doubt now whether or not he is receiving his money in absentia. But it's worth noting that the going rate for royalty in Athens was better than $11,000 a week.

AND THEN THERE IS the Emperor of Japan. The Japanese, who may get a bit proletarianly tumultuous and temperamental in the streets, respect their monarch. Just about a year ago, they raised his income from $189,000 to $233,000 a year because of rising prices. It all sounds more awesome in Japanese currency — 84 million yen now, compared with 68 million in 1967. And you do get more for your yen than for the dollar if you know where to buy.

With this income, Emperor Hirohito must care for Empress Nagako and Crown Prince Akihito. And that fascinating palace and those magnificent horses.

And then there is the nervous "little king," Jordan's Hussein. When in Hebron recently, I inquired of some substantial citizens. The king has a large personal fortune. But he's not keeping it in Amman these days. His tiny kingdom gives him $140,000 annually. Compare this with Mr. Nixon's $200,000 and the $100,000 of past presidents.

IT'S NOT ALWAYS easy to learn the pay scales of monarchs. Embassies are horrified by curious questioners.

At the Libyan embassy, for example, because of the new wealth, I asked after the pay of King Mohammed Idras el Senussi. The lady was shocked that anyone would ask. But it does run close to a million a year, I hear.

When I tried either the missions or embassies of such royal kingdoms as Cambodia, Kuwait, Morocco, Nepal and Saudi Arabia, I could have frozen a martini on the iciness. Other kingdoms, such as Afghanistan and Thailand, were surprised, horrified and unnerved that anyone should think in terms of paying a king.

Out of all this came one certainty — Americans, judging by what other peoples do for their first families are mighty chinchy with ours.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Avoiding More Vietnams

Whatever may be the outcome of the current Paris negotiations, we already have paid a great price for our rescue operation in Vietnam. But it should be some compensation if we have learned that while our sea and air power can help in resisting Communist aggression, the major effort must come from within the threatened country.

I have shown in a piece published two weeks ago that the initial gains of the Viet Cong were possible because the government of Saigon had dragged its feet in implementing the plans for land reform promised in the settlement in 1954. For an exploited and unhappy peasant population is always a breeding ground for Communist subversion.

IN ANOTHER PIECE a week ago, I described the highly successful land reform in Taiwan where after a few years 85 per cent of the farmers owned 90 per cent of the tillable land.

A useful objective in the future is to find means to carry the lessons learned in Taiwan to the many countries over the world which are in a process of development but are still ridden by various species of landlordism. A critical need in resisting communism is the strength and will provided when those who till the land enjoy a sense of ownership.

This is especially true of the countries on the perimeter of Red China from Iran to Japan.

This subject was considered in two international conferences sponsored by the John C. Lincoln Institute of the University of Hartford. The first of these was at Hartford in October, 1966. The second was held at the invitation of the government of Taiwan at the National Cheng Chih University in Taipei, Taiwan.

At the latter there were in attendance delegates from the free countries of Asia, from Australia and New Zealand, England and the United States. At both conferences, there was a representative of the Vatican. (A volume containing the papers read at the 1967 conference can be obtained from the John C. Lincoln Institute of the University of Hartford).

There was general agreement among the delegates in 1967 that there was need for a training institution geared to the problem of landreform in developing countries. Subsequently a plan for such a center was drawn up by the people at Hartford in co-operation with the U.S. Food and Agricultural Organization, the U.S. State Department and the Agency for International Development.

It was clear that such a training center should be located in Taiwan and that the successful program there should be used as a model for other countries.

Accordingly, an agreement was concluded between the institute at Hartford and the Council for International Economic Development of the Republic of China, Taiwan. The government will provide the building and living quarters and the John C. Lincoln Institute will finance the expenses of trainees and the compensation of the staff of instruction.

The agreement provides for an institution called the Land Reform Training Institute. Instruction will be by faculty members of Taiwan universities and from the Hartford Institute.

THE TRAINEES WILL BE government officials, whose main concern is land, from the Philippines, South Korea, Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia and Iran (perhaps also South Vietnam). In some of these countries, notably South Korea and Iran, land reform plans are already under way.

Thus, by encouraging and by supplying trained personnel, this new institute will contribute toward the maintenance of free political and economic institutions in the countries concerned. For communism almost always seeks conquest by promising land reform. But these pretensions are spurious because communism would merely replace the exploitation of landlordism with the tyranny of state or communal ownership.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will reply to a diplomatic note the Soviet Union sent to him Dec. 3 proposing a five-point program for making and keeping peace between Israel and her Arab neighbors, but he will say neither yea or nay to the five proposals.

The reply, drafted by the State Department probably will be Johnson's last diplomatic message to the Russians. Kept officially secret, as usual, part of its contents "leaked" out as usual.

Johnson, feeling he is obligated to reply to the Soviets but must defer decision to his successor, will merely suggest further exchanges about the Middle East and ask for clarification on some points raised by the Soviets.

—:—

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union is said to be developing a 10- headed nuclear warhead similar to—but less sophisticated than—America's MIRV, multiple independently targetable re-entry vehicle.

The Washington Star quoted informed sources as saying the Soviets have not reached the testing stage with the weapon. The United States is testing the MIRV.

The Soviet system reportedly is also similar to the American Polaris Ae missile which can release three warheads in a shotgun like blast to cover a wide area. The Soviet weapon, the report said, would difffer from the A3 by dropping its bomb in a straight line, destroying a long, narrow area.

Capital Footnotes

President Johnson has said he'd like for 200 students to be graduated yearly from the Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas. If they do, says President-elect Nixon, he'll give them a taste of government service.

The proposed raise of $100,000 bringing the salary of the President to $200,000, would be only the fifth increase granted for presidents since the salary was set at $25,000 in 1789.

2 Hospitalized As Car Hits Pole

Two Monaca men remained in City Hospital today with injuries suffered when their car sheared a utility pole early this morning along Route 30 near Laughlin's Corners.

John Harry Barr, 20, the driver, suffered possible fractures of the arm and back, lacerations of the ear and abrasions of the leg.

Steve Podolak, his passenger, received bruises and lacerations of the forehead.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said the 1969 coupe received $1,500 damage. Barr said the car skidded on ice about a quarter - mile west of Laughlin's Corners and struck the Duquesne Light Co. pole at 1:55 a.m.

The English Toy Spaniel probably first appeared in Spain. The Pekingese-like nose of the King Charles variety suggests that dogs from China and Japan were later bred in.

Police

ferred with men in Crucible familiar with scheduling and came up with a plan which was presented to the mayor and his committee.

"After studying the plan for several weeks, the mayor advised me to put the new schedule into effect.

"Over a year ago the mayor received a number of complaints on parking situations, especially in our shopping district. It had been reported to him, men were parking for 8 hours and working in the mill who were not receiving violation tags. The mayor assigned me to study this and report to him —at the time I warned the men of the study so they would go out and do the job."

"I found some police officers did a good job while others did not put out in a week what others did in a day. It must be understood, meters are not for the prime purpose of making money. If this was the case, our fines would be much higher as in other communities.

"Parking meters are for regulating parking to allow persons to park reasonably close for business transactions. Parking has become a problem in every community, and Midland is no exception. This steady meter man who has been appointed because of seniority will not only regulate the parking meters, he also will be used as a traffic man, especially during the peak hours of 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

"I HAVE been asked if there is a way to work the schedule without hiring a man and still maintain a steady meter man — I say yes. The mayor made an alternate proposal and when it was rejected by the police—I made this latest proposal.

"I would like to say when Mayor Corak took office in 1950 and served on the police committee, we had no benefits. Sergeants worked no daylight. Daylight was worked on a seniority and rank level among the patrolmen, and they only got it about every six weeks and there was no overtime pay.

"We had no benefits as the steelworkers have, and since that time, Mayor Corak was instrumental in adding two extra policemen and rotating a balanced schedule, hospital plan, pension fund with additions to it, which no other borough has—and all this is completely paid for by the borough.

"He has kept us in pace with the steelworkers with pay raises every two years with the cost of living. Perhaps not as much as the men would have liked to have, but within the realm of what the taxpayer could afford. He never has denied the police department anything for their betterment — such as weapons and equipment necessary for the operation of the department.

"THE FBI report states a town or city should have two policemen for every 1,000 population — we have 6,300 population in Midland which means we should have 12 policemen—we have 13.

"I sincerely feel, Mayor Corak is trying to do his best for the benefit of each member of the department. He has proved this by giving us the highest pay raise in the county and the best benefits of any police department in western Pennsylvania.

"I feel some policemen are sincere in their 'gripes,' while others are involving personalities. I know this, as I have received their complaints personally.

"During 1946-1960, the meter men never rotated. Formerly it was Frances Mullen. When he was promoted to sergeant, George Tepovich went on meters until 1960 when Capt. Norris retired and he became sergeant. Since that time we have been rotating meters, with officer Cook making all repairs."

Congress

mittee assignments and the Senate's biennial battle over the filibuster rule, still an issue after 16 years of debate.

The outgoing administration's last hurrah comes Tuesday at 9 p.m., EST when President Johnson reports on the State of the Union to a joint session. Later in the week, Congress will get Johnson's budget and economic messages, but he'll not deliver them personally.

Nonetheless, the budget message is avidly awaited, not so much for what it proposes—Nixon can and undoubtedly will change the figures—but because it will contain Johnson's solution to the only political problem that has surfaced in the transition of power.

The budget message was delayed while Johnson worked to arrange a consensus with Nixon on extending the 10 per cent income surtax, a tax Nixon had advocated junking when the Vietnam war ends.

Johnson overcame election year jitters in Congress to win approval of the tax for one year as means of cooling off an inflationary economy, and it will expire in June unless renewed. He is reported to believe that the tax still is needed to combat the rising cost of living, and to have entertained hopes that Nixon would join him in recommending extension because of the $13 billion it produces each year in revenue. The President also must include this money, or make spending cuts he regards as fictional, to present a balanced budget for fiscal 1970. Nixon's silence will force him to choose between the two, a prospect he doesn't relish.

Police

ferred with men in Crucible familiar with scheduling and came up with a plan which was presented to the mayor and his committee.

"After studying the plan for several weeks, the mayor advised me to put the new schedule into effect.

"Over a year ago the mayor received a number of complaints on parking situations, especially in our shopping district. It had been reported to him, men were parking for 8 hours and working in the mill who were not receiving violation tags. The mayor assigned me to study this and report to him —at the time I warned the men of the study so they would go out and do the job."

"I found some police officers did a good job while others did not put out in a week what others did in a day. It must be understood, meters are not for the prime purpose of making money. If this was the case, our fines would be much higher as in other communities.

"Parking meters are for regulating parking to allow persons to park reasonably close for business transactions. Parking has become a problem in every community, and Midland is no exception. This steady meter man who has been appointed because of seniority will not only regulate the parking meters, he also will be used as a traffic man, especially during the peak hours of 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

"I HAVE been asked if there is a way to work the schedule without hiring a man and still maintain a steady meter man — I say yes. The mayor made an alternate proposal and when it was rejected by the police—I made this latest proposal.

"I would like to say when Mayor Corak took office in 1950 and served on the police committee, we had no benefits. Sergeants worked no daylight. Daylight was worked on a seniority and rank level among the patrolmen, and they only got it about every six weeks and there was no overtime pay.

"We had no benefits as the steelworkers have, and since that time, Mayor Corak was instrumental in adding two extra policemen and rotating a balanced schedule, hospital plan, pension fund with additions to it, which no other borough has—and all this is completely paid for by the borough.

"He has kept us in pace with the steelworkers with pay raises every two years with the cost of living. Perhaps not as much as the men would have liked to have, but within the realm of what the taxpayer could afford. He never has denied the police department anything for their betterment — such as weapons and equipment necessary for the operation of the department.

"THE FBI report states a town or city should have two policemen for every 1,000 population — we have 6,300 population in Midland which means we should have 12 policemen—we have 13.

"I sincerely feel, Mayor Corak is trying to do his best for the benefit of each member of the department. He has proved this by giving us the highest pay raise in the county and the best benefits of any police department in western Pennsylvania.

"I feel some policemen are sincere in their 'gripes,' while others are involving personalities. I know this, as I have received their complaints personally.

"During 1946-1960, the meter men never rotated. Formerly it was Frances Mullen. When he was promoted to sergeant, George Tepovich went on meters until 1960 when Capt. Norris retired and he became sergeant. Since that time we have been rotating meters, with officer Cook making all repairs."

Congress

mittee assignments and the Senate's biennial battle over the filibuster rule, still an issue after 16 years of debate.

The outgoing administration's last hurrah comes Tuesday at 9 p.m., EST when President Johnson reports on the State of the Union to a joint session. Later in the week, Congress will get Johnson's budget and economic messages, but he'll not deliver them personally.

Nonetheless, the budget message is avidly awaited, not so much for what it proposes—Nixon can and undoubtedly will change the figures—but because it will contain Johnson's solution to the only political problem that has surfaced in the transition of power.

The budget message was delayed while Johnson worked to arrange a consensus with Nixon on extending the 10 per cent income surtax, a tax Nixon had advocated junking when the Vietnam war ends.

Johnson overcame election year jitters in Congress to win approval of the tax for one year as means of cooling off an inflationary economy, and it will expire in June unless renewed. He is reported to believe that the tax still is needed to combat the rising cost of living, and to have entertained hopes that Nixon would join him in recommending extension because of the $13 billion it produces each year in revenue. The President also must include this money, or make spending cuts he regards as fictional, to present a balanced budget for fiscal 1970. Nixon's silence will force him to choose between the two, a prospect he doesn't relish.

Delay Sought For Week In Pueblo Probe

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The civilian attorney for Pueblo skipper Lloyd M. Bucher has asked the Navy to delay until next week a court of inquiry.

Miles Harvey of San Diego said he needs more time to talk with his client and prepare his case.

While not a trial, the court of inquiry can make recommendations ranging from decorations to courts-martial.

Navy and Pentagon sources have said courts-martial possibilities are remote for crewmen of the intelligence ship captured in January 1968 by North Korea, but the military Code of Conduct apparently was violated because of alleged "confessions" by crewmen.

The Navy said last month if any crewmen were tried it would be for conduct violating the Uniform Code of Military Justice which does not include the conduct code.

Delay Sought For Week In Pueblo Probe

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The civilian attorney for Pueblo skipper Lloyd M. Bucher has asked the Navy to delay until next week a court of inquiry.

Miles Harvey of San Diego said he needs more time to talk with his client and prepare his case.

While not a trial, the court of inquiry can make recommendations ranging from decorations to courts-martial.

Navy and Pentagon sources have said courts-martial possibilities are remote for crewmen of the intelligence ship captured in January 1968 by North Korea, but the military Code of Conduct apparently was violated because of alleged "confessions" by crewmen.

The Navy said last month if any crewmen were tried it would be for conduct violating the Uniform Code of Military Justice which does not include the conduct code.

Woman Fined, Jailed 5 Days For Hit-Skip Traffic Charge

A Beechwood woman who pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to a Dec. 5 hit-skip charge on which a friend first was cited was fined $100 and costs and given a five-day jail sentence by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Barbara Hager of Vernia St. admitted she was the driver of an auto which struck a utility pole on St. Clair Ave. near Walnut St.

The hit-skip charge was filed initially against Alfred I. Higgins of 770 Dresden Ave. He also was accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving after his operator's license had been suspended and public intoxication.

The woman's testimony that she was the driver of the auto absolved Hager of three of the four charges in a hearing last Tuesday. But Patrolman James Buckley, the investigating officer, then filed an affidavit accusing her of leaving the scene of an accident. Higgins was fined only on the public intoxication charge.

IN ANOTHER accident case, Costello Jones, 39, of 924 Kent St. was fined $50 and costs today on a charge of reckless driving filed Jan. 3 after his auto allegedly struck a utility pole on Harvey Ave. near Putnam St. Jones told the court he had taken a cold remedy prior to the mishap and this could have contributed to the accident. The judge remarked that the police report indicated Jones had been drinking.

The judge set a hearing Wednesday for Joseph T. Hercules, 21, of 1742 Wyoming Ave., charged with driving while intoxicated as an aftermath of a mishap Friday at 11:19 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. and Ravine St. Hercules also is charged with public intoxication.

THE COURT disposed of nine other traffic cases today.

Glenn G. Beagle, 18, of 165 Fawcett St. was fined $20 and costs on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. He was cited Sunday at 12:59 p. m. Dwight R. Mercer, 34, of Monaca St. paid a fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of crashing a traffic signal at Mulberry St. and Pennsylvania Ave. He was cited Sunday at 9:10 p.m.

Charles J. Hanlon Jr., 46, of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Friday at 1:40 a. m.

Robert L. Kastrun, 31, of Weirton forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a stop sign on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Sunday at 11 p. m.

Jerry W. Lemley, 19, of Chester forfeited $17.50 on a charge of crashing a stop sign on Route 7. He was cited Sunday at 10:05 p. m. Brenda M. Board, 24, of Toronto was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. She was cited by the patrol Friday at 10:50 p. m.

The court ordered a bench warrant for John B. James of Canfield, who failed to appear on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50 - mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 7:05 p. m.

Thomas Jolly, 30, of Avondale St. forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited Saturday.

Terry Lee Newlan, 24, of 2107 Nevada St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 9:50 p. m.

Officers List 4 Crashes On Local Streets

Five cars were damaged in four weekend traffic mishaps in East Liverpool, but no one was injured, police reported.

A collision on Bradshaw Ave. Sunday involved a backing 1968 sedan driven by Glenn C. O'Hanlon, 66, of Lisbon RD 3 and a 1960 model auto operated by Bruce Garver, 20, of 833 Bradshaw Ave.

O'Hanlon reported he was backing when Garver pulled up to put his car into a garage and he did not notice the Garver auto. Garver was out of his auto when it was hit by the O'Hanlon car, officers said. The right front door of the Garver auto was damaged.

A 1966 sedan driven by Richard J. Reed, 18, of 1003 Main St., Wellsville, and a 1964 sedan operated by Paul V. Jones, 63, of 1317 Riverview St. were damaged in a mishap Saturday at 5:27 p.m. on E. 5th St. at Walnut St.

Reed told officers he halted under the traffic light at the intersection, intending to make a left turn, and then changed his mind and made a right turn instead. Jones told officers he saw the halted car, with the signal indicating a left turn. As he approached, Reed made a right turn in front of him, he reported.

Confusion over a turn signal also was blamed for a mishap Saturday on Pennsylvania Ave. that involved a 1963 sedan driven by David English, 21, of 1118 Perry Ave. and a 1963 model station wagon operated by Frank Taylor, 45, of Smith Dairy Rd.

English told officers he was starting a left turn from Pennsylvania Ave. onto a used car lot when a car began to pass and hit his auto on the side. Taylor told officers he saw the right tail light of the car ahead light up and he thought the driver planned to make a right turn. As he started to pass, he said, the other car turned left.

Meanwhile, Charles H. Johnson of Colton, Calif., told officers Saturday afternoon both fenders and headlights of his 1967 model station wagon were damaged when struck by a hit-skip car while parked at a parking meter on Dresden Ave. at W. 7th St.

Adding Machine And Tools Stolen In 2 City Entries

An adding machine valued at $40 and tools worth $125 were taken in two weekend burglaries in East Liverpool, police reported.

The adding machine was taken by an intruder who broke into the office at the North Star Coal Co. on E. 1st St. between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sunday, officers said. Entry was gained by breaking a 12-by-18-inch window. The entry was reported by John Parsons, the manager. A table model radio also was listed in the loot, but it was found later, officers said.

James Higgins Jr. of Negley RD 1 told police a box of tools valued at $125, a ⅜-inch electric drill and an auto transmission were taken by an intruder who forced his way into the old Railway Express building on E. 2nd St. The entry was reported Sunday at 7:10 a.m.

Charles Campbell of 139 W. 5th St. told officers Sunday afternoon a stereo tape player and two tapes were stolen from his auto while it was parked on a city-owned lot on W. 5th St. Edward Bowyer of the Westfield Rd. told officers Saturday night his parked car was looted of six pairs of men's trousers, five men's shirts and a white reversible raincoat.

Woman Fined, Jailed 5 Days For Hit-Skip Traffic Charge

A Beechwood woman who pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to a Dec. 5 hit-skip charge on which a friend first was cited was fined $100 and costs and given a five-day jail sentence by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Barbara Hager of Vernia St. admitted she was the driver of an auto which struck a utility pole on St. Clair Ave. near Walnut St.

The hit-skip charge was filed initially against Alfred I. Higgins of 770 Dresden Ave. He also was accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving after his operator's license had been suspended and public intoxication.

The woman's testimony that she was the driver of the auto absolved Hager of three of the four charges in a hearing last Tuesday. But Patrolman James Buckley, the investigating officer, then filed an affidavit accusing her of leaving the scene of an accident. Higgins was fined only on the public intoxication charge.

IN ANOTHER accident case, Costello Jones, 39, of 924 Kent St. was fined $50 and costs today on a charge of reckless driving filed Jan. 3 after his auto allegedly struck a utility pole on Harvey Ave. near Putnam St. Jones told the court he had taken a cold remedy prior to the mishap and this could have contributed to the accident. The judge remarked that the police report indicated Jones had been drinking.

The judge set a hearing Wednesday for Joseph T. Hercules, 21, of 1742 Wyoming Ave., charged with driving while intoxicated as an aftermath of a mishap Friday at 11:19 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. and Ravine St. Hercules also is charged with public intoxication.

THE COURT disposed of nine other traffic cases today.

Glenn G. Beagle, 18, of 165 Fawcett St. was fined $20 and costs on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. He was cited Sunday at 12:59 p. m. Dwight R. Mercer, 34, of Monaca St. paid a fine of $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of crashing a traffic signal at Mulberry St. and Pennsylvania Ave. He was cited Sunday at 9:10 p.m.

Charles J. Hanlon Jr., 46, of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Friday at 1:40 a. m.

Robert L. Kastrun, 31, of Weirton forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a stop sign on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Sunday at 11 p. m.

Jerry W. Lemley, 19, of Chester forfeited $17.50 on a charge of crashing a stop sign on Route 7. He was cited Sunday at 10:05 p. m. Brenda M. Board, 24, of Toronto was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. She was cited by the patrol Friday at 10:50 p. m.

The court ordered a bench warrant for John B. James of Canfield, who failed to appear on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50 - mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 7:05 p. m.

Thomas Jolly, 30, of Avondale St. forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited Saturday.

Terry Lee Newlan, 24, of 2107 Nevada St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 9:50 p. m.

Officers List 4 Crashes On Local Streets

Five cars were damaged in four weekend traffic mishaps in East Liverpool, but no one was injured, police reported.

A collision on Bradshaw Ave. Sunday involved a backing 1968 sedan driven by Glenn C. O'Hanlon, 66, of Lisbon RD 3 and a 1960 model auto operated by Bruce Garver, 20, of 833 Bradshaw Ave.

O'Hanlon reported he was backing when Garver pulled up to put his car into a garage and he did not notice the Garver auto. Garver was out of his auto when it was hit by the O'Hanlon car, officers said. The right front door of the Garver auto was damaged.

A 1966 sedan driven by Richard J. Reed, 18, of 1003 Main St., Wellsville, and a 1964 sedan operated by Paul V. Jones, 63, of 1317 Riverview St. were damaged in a mishap Saturday at 5:27 p.m. on E. 5th St. at Walnut St.

Reed told officers he halted under the traffic light at the intersection, intending to make a left turn, and then changed his mind and made a right turn instead. Jones told officers he saw the halted car, with the signal indicating a left turn. As he approached, Reed made a right turn in front of him, he reported.

Confusion over a turn signal also was blamed for a mishap Saturday on Pennsylvania Ave. that involved a 1963 sedan driven by David English, 21, of 1118 Perry Ave. and a 1963 model station wagon operated by Frank Taylor, 45, of Smith Dairy Rd.

English told officers he was starting a left turn from Pennsylvania Ave. onto a used car lot when a car began to pass and hit his auto on the side. Taylor told officers he saw the right tail light of the car ahead light up and he thought the driver planned to make a right turn. As he started to pass, he said, the other car turned left.

Meanwhile, Charles H. Johnson of Colton, Calif., told officers Saturday afternoon both fenders and headlights of his 1967 model station wagon were damaged when struck by a hit-skip car while parked at a parking meter on Dresden Ave. at W. 7th St.

Adding Machine And Tools Stolen In 2 City Entries

An adding machine valued at $40 and tools worth $125 were taken in two weekend burglaries in East Liverpool, police reported.

The adding machine was taken by an intruder who broke into the office at the North Star Co. Co. on E. 1st St. between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sunday, officers said. Entry was gained by breaking a 12-by-18-inch window. The entry was reported by John Parsons, the manager. A table model radio also was listed in the loot, but it was found later, officers said.

James Higgins Jr. of Negley RD 1 told police a box of tools valued at $125, a ⅜-inch electric drill and an auto transmission were taken by an intruder who forced his way into the old Railway Express building on E. 2nd St. The entry was reported Sunday at 7:10 a.m.

Charles Campbell of 139 W. 5th St. told officers Sunday afternoon a stereo tape player and two tapes were stolen from his auto while it was parked on a city-owned lot on W. 5th St. Edward Bowyer of the Westfield Rd. told officers Saturday night his parked car was looted of six pairs of men's trousers, five men's shirts and a white reversible raincoat.

In Shadow Of 1970 Races

Legislature Eyes Plans To Please 'Home Folks'

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Legislature, operating in the growing shadow of next year's political races, is expected to spend much of this week cranking out proposals to please the home folks.

As many as 200 bills were in preparation for the House hopper and in the Senate a deluge also was forecast.

Few of any would be backed by the Republican administration of Gov. James Rhodes. Most are doomed to quiet extinction in committee.

In the second week of the session, the Legislature likely will concentrate on organization.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R-4 Bowling Green, will announce the membership of 14 standing committees tonight. The following two days will be used extensively for solidifying internal assignments.

The jockying will ake place against a widening backdrop of political developments in 1970.

There are some reports that Rhodes is a possible nominee for U.S. Senate, maybe against former astronaut John Glenn in the Democratic fold.

And other speculation puts Kurfess in the arena for attorney general, with House Democratic Leader John McDonald as a potential Democratic opponent.

The serious legislation that eventually reaches the floor is apt to focus on education.

In this context, the Legislature expects in a few days a constitutional amendment to help local districts which lack financial backing from industry.

The sponsor could be Sen. Walter Powell, R-Fairfield, a Butler County principal, and it is likely to create some furor.

The plan would give the Legislature power to divide real estate tax bases into residential and industrial-commercial.

Local districts would be able to continue fixing residential tax levies while the Legislature set one rate everywhere for the other classification.

The districts would obtain the industry funds on the basis of their average pupil valuation. This apportionment would bolster districts which now receive little from industry and at the same time would slash the more prosperous recipients.

The proposal would try to resolve this problem by guaranteeing each district would get at least as much from industry as currently.

If Powell introduces the bill —and the Legislature approves — it would go on the ballot next November for a vote by the people.

Meantime, Sen. Ralph S. Regula, R-Navarre, said he plans to offer a bill creating centers to provide vocational education training and assistance for handicapped children.

That concept is similar to the governor's program. It would be administered by an elected county board that would replace existing ones and would operate the centers.

The centers in turn would be financed by state and local funds. They presumably would obtain such money from the savings made by eliminating county systems.

No matter what the fate of the two pending bills, the state may be in for a drastic change in how its schools are organized and financed.

An indication was contained in recommendations last week of the governor's task force on education, one of which calls for telescoping the 650 local school districts eventually into no more than 88, or one per county.

Such a step, if it becomes reality, would require school mergers on a mammoth scale.

No Significant Increases

Tax-Weary Swedes Get Break In Record Budget

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Tax-weary Swedes who pay dearly for their welfare state got a welcome break today—an $8.4 billion record budget with no significant tax increases.

The long-reigning Social Democratic government, a big winner in the general elections last September, presented a budget of 42 billion crowns—about 3 billion crowns or $600 million over the previous budget.

Finance Minister Gunnar Straeng told Parliament his only proposals for increased tariffs affect heavy truck trailers and phone calls, netting $35 million annually. He said traditionally high-taxed "milk cows" such as liquor and tobacco from the state monopolies were bypassed this year.

Straeng said national income was up and the need for national loans down, cause for "guarded optimism." But he advocated a continued restrictive financial policy, and warned that prices and costs must be held in check so that workers' demands for wage increases do not overstrain the national economy.

Beside continuing efforts to curb unemployment, Straeng promised no new social reforms. Pensioners will get a slightly larger cut of the national income.

The budget envisions a 4 per cent increase in national output, 7 per cent in both imports and exports, and an even greater increase in export prices. Domestic price rises are expected to be held at a moderate 2 per cent.

The government promised to concentrate on increasing coordination of nationalized business and strengthening the public sector of the economy. A new industry department and the new government investment bank get considerable appropriations in the budget.

Social welfare, always rated as the heaviest expenditure, again gets the biggest increase for a total of 11.6 billion crowns — $2.3 billion dollars. Education and research go up one billion crowns to more than 8 billion—$1.6 billion.

The defense budget is 5.67 billions—$1.15 billion dollars— and 643 million crowns—$126 million —has been allocated for foreign aid.

Shot To Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Verlin Bingaman, 26, of Cleveland, was shot to death and a companion, Roy L. Witt, 28, of Cleveland, was wounded in the parking lot of a tavern here Saturday night. Police said the two were shot as Bingaman drove his car into the parking lot.

If Powell introduces the bill —and the Legislature approves — it would go on the ballot next November for a vote by the people.

Meantime, Sen. Ralph S. Regula, R-Navarre, said he plans to offer a bill creating centers to provide vocational education training and assistance for handicapped children.

That concept is similar to the governor's program. It would be administered by an elected county board that would replace existing ones and would operate the centers.

The centers in turn would be financed by state and local funds. They presumably would obtain such money from the savings made by eliminating county systems.

No matter what the fate of the two pending bills, the state may be in for a drastic change in how its schools are organized and financed.

An indication was contained in recommendations last week of the governor's task force on education, one of which calls for telescoping the 650 local school districts eventually into no more than 88, or one per county.

Such a step, if it becomes reality, would require school mergers on a mammoth scale.

No Significant Increases

Tax-Weary Swedes Get Break In Record Budget

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Tax-weary Swedes who pay dearly for their welfare state got a welcome break today—an $8.4 billion record budget with no significant tax increases.

The long-reigning Social Democratic government, a big winner in the general elections last September, presented a budget of 42 billion crowns—about 3 billion crowns or $600 million over the previous budget.

Finance Minister Gunnar Straeng told Parliament his only proposals for increased tariffs affect heavy truck trailers and phone calls, netting $35 million annually. He said traditionally high-taxed "milk cows" such as liquor and tobacco from the state monopolies were bypassed this year.

Straeng said national income was up and the need for national loans down, cause for "guarded optimism." But he advocated a continued restrictive financial policy, and warned that prices and costs must be held in check so that workers' demands for wage increases do not overstrain the national economy.

Beside continuing efforts to curb unemployment, Straeng promised no new social reforms. Pensioners will get a slightly larger cut of the national income.

The budget envisions a 4 per cent increase in national output, 7 per cent in both imports and exports, and an even greater increase in export prices. Domestic price rises are expected to be held at a moderate 2 per cent.

The government promised to concentrate on increasing coordination of nationalized business and strengthening the public sector of the economy. A new industry department and the new government investment bank get considerable appropriations in the budget.

Social welfare, always rated as the heaviest expenditure, again gets the biggest increase for a total of 11.6 billion crowns — $2.3 billion dollars. Education and research go up one billion crowns to more than 8 billion—$1.6 billion.

The defense budget is 5.67 billions—$1.15 billion dollars— and 643 million crowns—$126 million —has been allocated for foreign aid.

Shot To Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Verlin Bingaman, 26, of Cleveland, was shot to death and a companion, Roy L. Witt, 28, of Cleveland, was wounded in the parking lot of a tavern here Saturday night. Police said the two were shot as Bingaman drove his car into the parking lot.

The boys were accused of setting fire to the Don and Emma Bailey residence on State Line RD., Unity Township, the C. J. Cetto storage building, a dwelling owned by Harry Hill and a house owned by Schafernocker Dallies.

The Bailey and Dallies fire complaints were tried Thursday and Friday, with the 16-year-old as the only defendant.

Lord Trains As He Films

He Trains Actors as He Films

Sometimes I think the most underrated profession on earth is that of the actor.

Billowy PTA matrons, knock-kneed adolescents and neighborhood druggists who wouldn't dream of practicing brain surgery or arguing a Supreme Court case without some training seem to feel they can get on a stage or before a camera and play a role as well as a professional actor who has spent a lifetime studying the art.

-:-

SO WHEN Jack Lord dropped off a plane from Honolulu for his first visit to this continent since beginning "Hawaii Five-O," I said: "So you've got pineapples and Waikiki and Diamond Head. What do you do for actors?"

"We worry," said Jack.

"Never before have I so appreciated the professional actor," he said. "The only pro on the set is Jimmy MacArthur — and what a pleasure it is to work with him. We import professional guest stars, of course, and Richard Denning flies up from his home on Maui to play the governor in certain episodes — but otherwise we depend on local amateurs."

-:-

I SAID that I was impressed with the work of huge, beefy Zulu and acerbic Kam Fong, who with Lord and MacArthur make up the state police team of investigators of the "Hawaii Five-O" unit.

"Now," said Jack. "I think they're marvelous. After 32 shows. But we've had to train them as we went along. We've been simultaneously shooting a series and running an acting school.

"Zulu is a full-blooded Hawaiian, one of the rare ones — his ancestors were kings. Kam was a Honolulu policeman for 18 years.

"We're gradually building up what we call our Five-O stock company. Ted Thorpe, who used to produce plays in Los Angeles, is in charge of our casting. He scours the islands for talent.

-:-

"HE'S DEVELOPED about 15 or 20 actors we use fairly regularly. They're from all walks of life. One is an insurance executive, another a laborer, another a policeman, another a waitress.

"Hawaii has no professional theater, and actors from its community theaters rarely work out. Amateur actors tend to declaim. They do a walk-on like they were playing Othello.

"We'd rather go with people who have never acted. But it turns your hair gray. A man who sounds great in a reading freezes on the camera, and you're in for 10, 15 or 20 takes to get a scene right."

Not that Lord would change it for the world. He's in love with Hawaii — he and his wife have bought a condominium overlooking the Pacific at Kahala near Diamond Head. And he feels the series, developed by Leonard Freeman, is first-rate television and his part of Capt. McGarrett, head of the Five-O unit, a fully realized character.

THE PROGRAM is done almost wholly in the open to utilize the exotic beauty of the islands. Its only studio is a converted Navy warehouse at Pearl City.

Freeman and Lord are partners. Freeman watches the shop in Hollywood, develops scripts, hires guest stars and directors; Lord runs the show in Hawaii. Like "I Spy," the equipment developed by that remarkable Arab, Fouad Said remarkable Arab, Fouad Said. wood for processing.

The program has an understated, quiet air about it, punctuated with wit, stemming more from the murder mystery detective story than the Hammett-and-tongs action of the private eye tale.

McGarrett is more a descendant of Ellery Queen than Philip Marlowe. The detection is by painstaking police work rather than a fist in the gut.

Pittsburgh Teachers Planning New Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, which struck city schools last winter to win bargaining rights, plans a new strike at midnight Wednesday to try to win a contract.

Some 700 members of the federation met Sunday night and the majority voted to strike at 12:01 a. m. Thursday unless they get a contract.

The Pittsburgh Education Association, a rival teachers group, announced immediately that it would not support the strike.

Penn State President To Retire In 1970

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Eric A. Walker, who rose from a cook's helper in a lumber camp to the highest academic ranks, will retire as president of Pennsylvania State University no later than July 1, 1970.

He announced his decision to the Board of Trustees at a weekend meeting and told them he was giving such extended notice so they could start searching for a successor now.

Walker, 53, will have served as president for 14 years—third longest in the school's history—if he remains through his target date.

Lord Trains As He Films

He Trains Actors as He Films

Sometimes I think the most underrated profession on earth is that of the actor.

Billowy PTA matrons, knock-kneed adolescents and neighborhood druggists who wouldn't dream of practicing brain surgery or arguing a Supreme Court case without some training seem to feel they can get on a stage or before a camera and play a role as well as a professional actor who has spent a lifetime studying the art.

-:-

SO WHEN Jack Lord dropped off a plane from Honolulu for his first visit to this continent since beginning "Hawaii Five-O," I said: "So you've got pineapples and Waikiki and Diamond Head. What do you do for actors?"

"We worry," said Jack.

"Never before have I so appreciated the professional actor," he said. "The only pro on the set is Jimmy MacArthur — and what a pleasure it is to work with him. We import professional guest stars, of course, and Richard Denning flies up from his home on Maui to play the governor in certain episodes — but otherwise we depend on local amateurs."

-:-

I SAID that I was impressed with the work of huge, beefy Zulu and acerbic Kam Fong, who with Lord and MacArthur make up the state police team of investigators of the "Hawaii Five-O" unit.

"Now," said Jack. "I think they're marvelous. After 32 shows. But we've had to train them as we went along. We've been simultaneously shooting a series and running an acting school.

"Zulu is a full-blooded Hawaiian, one of the rare ones — his ancestors were kings. Kam was a Honolulu policeman for 18 years.

"We're gradually building up what we call our Five-O stock company. Ted Thorpe, who used to produce plays in Los Angeles, is in charge of our casting. He scours the islands for talent.

-:-

"HE'S DEVELOPED about 15 or 20 actors we use fairly regularly. They're from all walks of life. One is an insurance executive, another a laborer, another a policeman, another a waitress.

"Hawaii has no professional theater, and actors from its community theaters rarely work out. Amateur actors tend to declaim. They do a walk-on like they were playing Othello.

"We'd rather go with people who have never acted. But it turns your hair gray. A man who sounds great in a reading freezes on the camera, and you're in for 10, 15 or 20 takes to get a scene right."

Not that Lord would change it for the world. He's in love with Hawaii — he and his wife have bought a condominium overlooking the Pacific at Kahala near Diamond Head. And he feels the series, developed by Leonard Freeman, is first-rate television and his part of Capt. McGarrett, head of the Five-O unit, a fully realized character.

THE PROGRAM is done almost wholly in the open to utilize the exotic beauty of the islands. Its only studio is a converted Navy warehouse at Pearl City.

Freeman and Lord are partners. Freeman watches the shop in Hollywood, develops scripts, hires guest stars and directors; Lord runs the show in Hawaii. Like "I Spy," the equipment developed by that remarkable Arab, Fouad Said remarkable Arab, Fouad Said. wood for processing.

The program has an understated, quiet air about it, punctuated with wit, stemming more from the murder mystery detective story than the Hammett-and-tongs action of the private eye tale.

McGarrett is more a descendant of Ellery Queen than Philip Marlowe. The detection is by painstaking police work rather than a fist in the gut.

Pittsburgh Teachers Planning New Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, which struck city schools last winter to win bargaining rights, plans a new strike at midnight Wednesday to try to win a contract.

Some 700 members of the federation met Sunday night and the majority voted to strike at 12:01 a. m. Thursday unless they get a contract.

The Pittsburgh Education Association, a rival teachers group, announced immediately that it would not support the strike.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Eric A. Walker, who rose from a cook's helper in a lumber camp to the highest academic ranks, will retire as president of Pennsylvania State University no later than July 1, 1970.

He announced his decision to the Board of Trustees at a weekend meeting and told them he was giving such extended notice so they could start searching for a successor now.

Walker, 53, will have served as president for 14 years—third longest in the school's history—if he remains through his target date.

ANN LANDERS

Let Him Wear 'Em, Gal

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The other evening I went to pick up my girl to take her to dinner. When she answered the door I said, "Hi, Harold." I thought it was her brother.

June had on one of those pantsuits. With her short haircut and a button-down collar she looked just like a guy. I told her I didn't like the way she looked and, furthermore, I was afraid they wouldn't let us into the Ritz Hotel dining room dressed that way.

She gave me a black look and said, "I'll change but I think you're being very provincial." Her lower lip stuck out all evening and we had a rotten time.

Will you please tell me if I was wrong to say anything? I told June when we said good night that if I wanted to date somebody in trousers there are two guys in the office who have hinted they'd like to go out with me. She didn't care much for that remark.

I love June and don't want to have any trouble with her. Please tell me if you think a man has the right to express his views on how his girl looks? — CHILLED CHUCK.

-:-

Dear Chuck: I do, indeed. Pantsuits are in vogue, and some women look smashing in them. If, however, a boy friend or a husband prefers that the light of his life wear a skirt when she goes with him, his wishes should be respected.

Family Talks

Dear Ann: Please don't think I'm a selfish, possessive mother. Nothing could be further from the truth. The problem is the other set of in-laws.

My husband and I would enjoy being with our daughter and her husband for an occasional evening without the other in-laws monopolizing the conversation with "their plans, trips, projects."

Please understand, Ann, they're fine folks, but they're overwhelming. We can't get a word in edgewise. Whenever my husband and I return from an evening with the four of them we feel we could just as well have stayed at home.

What do you suggest? — MAINE DILEMMA.

Dear Dil: Be honest with your daughter. Tell her you would prefer not to be part of a quartet, even if this means seeing her less often. In my opinion, your complaint is a valid one and you should speak up.

Forget It

Dear Ann: Our favorite niece announced her engagement five months ago. We were all thrilled. The young man comes from a fine family and is in his senior year at Brown. The date was set for Jan. 26. Several parties were given and gifts sent.

Yesterday we received a cryptic three-line note from the bride's mother. The wedding is off. No reason. Just "off." We feel she owes us an explanation. After all, we aren't strangers. Do you agree? — INSULTED.

Dear In: No. The reasons are nobody's business. If you're a real friend you'll spare them additional anxiety and ask no questions.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Fatal To 15 More

By The Associated Press

Fifteen persons died in traffic accidents across Ohio during the weekend, and a coroner at Columbus was to rule today on another death which may have caused a crash.

Floyd Nichol, 51, of Marysville, is believed to have suffered a fatal heart attack just before his milk truck knocked over two utility poles at Columbus Sunday.

Earlier in the day at Columbus, Ronald L. Clay, 23, was thrown from his car and killed after it struck two utility poles and a parked auto near his home.

Two students returning to Miami University died when their auto slammed into a tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 73 near Miami.

The victims were Guy R. Marinelli, 21, Parma, and David Keeler, 24, Harrison. They had spent the weekend in Dayton.

Another double fatality occurred outside Gallipolis when three cars collided on Ohio 7.

The highway patrol said Gerald W. Green, Columbus, and a passenger in his car, Ernest Ballard, 43, Gallipolis, received fatal injuries in the pileup.

Trustees Return Liverpool Chief On Acting Basis

The trustees and clerk, Paul Cunningham will attend the Ohio Association of Township Trustees and Clerks Jan. 22-25 at Columbus.

Discussion was held with a group of Boring Ln. area residents concerning parked cars which obstruct use of the truck-snow plow. Constables are to investigate.

Trustees reminded area residents the meetings are held on alternate Friday nights and anyone is welcome to attend. The next meeting will be Jan. 27, advanced because of the state meeting.

Proper Method Suggested To Correct Step Squeaks

AP Newsfeatures

Question: Can you tell me how to eliminate squeaks in stairs? Three or four of the steps make a creaking noise every time they are stepped on.

Answer: First, so we understand each other, let's define treads, risers and stringers. Treads are the horizontal pieces on which you walk. Risers are the vertical boards under the treads. And stringers are the heavy wooden members on the sides, to which both treads and risers are attached.

If the underside of the stairway is accessible, have someone walk up and down while you inspect the underside. Using a flashlight and a piece of chalk, mark the points at which there are squeaks. You'll find that, in each case, one piece of wood has come loose from another and that a well-placed nail, screw or wedge will correct the trouble.

More often than not, a wedge between a tread and stringer has loosened. If the underside of the stairway is not visible, locate a step that has a squeak, then carefully remove the molding from under the lip of the tread.

This will show you at once whether the tread and riser are nailed together or whether there is a tongue - and - groove arrangement. If they have been nailed, have someone stand on the tread while you drive 10-penny flooring nails diagonally through the top of the tread into the riser. Three or four nails usually are required.

If the tongue - and - groove method has been used, drive thin wedges between the tongue and the groove until the joint is secure. Replace the lip molding and the job is done.

Where the nailing type of repair is made, the nailheads should be recessed with a nail-set and covered with wood putty or plastic wood, using a matching filler if the stairway is not covered with carpeting or other material.

QUESTION: I recently tried using a spray can of enamel for the first time and found it so much easier and better than painting with a brush or roller. I'd like to try spraying in the painting of our kitchen. Do you see any objection to this?

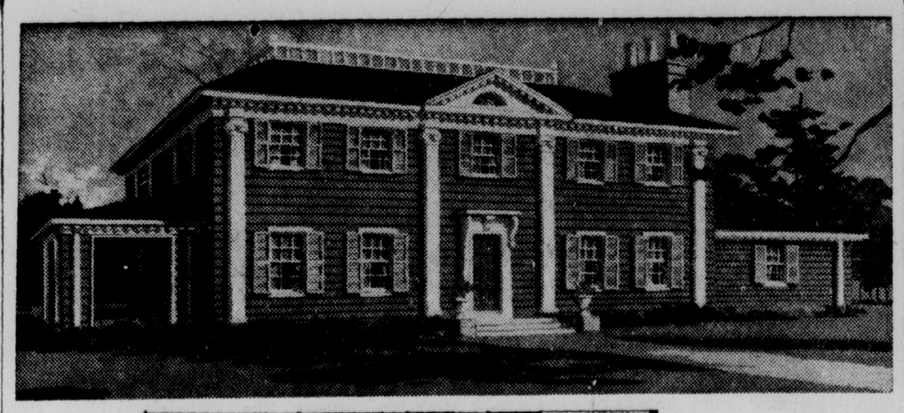
Answer: It depends on what kind of spraying you mean. If you are referring to painting the kitchen with the type of spray can you used, be prepared to spend far, far more than it would cost to paint with a roller or brush. Not only does paint in a spray can cost more, but a considerable percentage of it is wasted in the air.

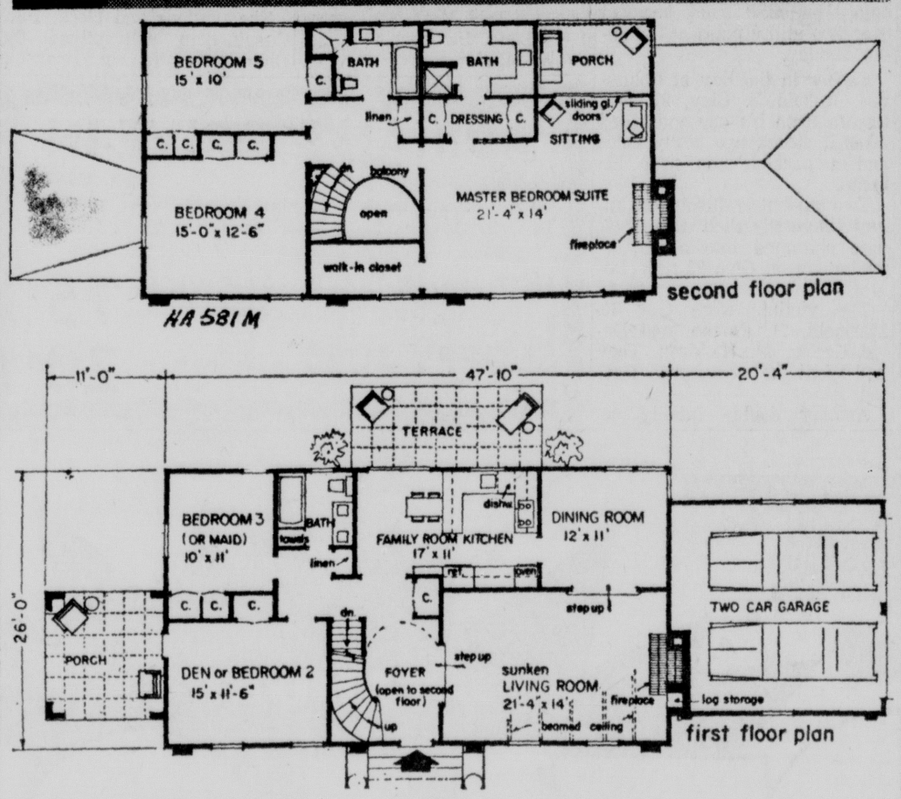
If you want to try regular spraying equipment — in which you pour the paint into the container — go ahead. But you should first learn the technique of handling such equipment, as well as the safety precautions necessary for spraying indoors on such a large scale.

GE Starts Building Adams County Plant

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The General Electric Co., announced today a start on construction of a $2 million facility in Adams County to test virtually every engine GE has as well as several future models.

It is to become operational in June and will be used primarily for tests of the CF6 commercial turbofan engine for the McDonald-Douglas DC 10 trijet.





THIS FORMAL DIGNIFIED HOME design took its inspiration from the home in which Henry W. Longfellow lived. The exterior is very similar and the interior quite different—updated for modern living. Entrance foyer is large with a gracious curved staircase leading to the second floor. A portion of the foyer has a full two-story ceiling with a balcony curving around to meet the stair. The living room is large and sunken, with a log-burning fireplace and wood storage niche. Unlike the usual two-story house, this one has two bedrooms on the first floor with three more on the second floor. Home HA581M was designed by Rudolph Matern, 89 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N. Here's How To Hit A Nail On The Head

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Although most people are not aware of it, there are more than 40 different kinds of hammers manufactured.

Among the less widely-known varieties are the hammers used by goldsmiths, silversmiths, dentists, stonemasons, slaters and leather workers. Of course, we are all familiar with the many weights and styles of ordinary carpenter's, machinist's and tack hammers.

Each of these tools have been carefully thought out and designed by the men who manufacture them, and the balance, weight and length of handle are exactly as they should be for each job.

The average standard carpenter's hammer has a handle about 11 inches long. It should be held with only an inch or two showing behind the grip of the fingers. Holding a hammer halfway up toward the head is wrong because it does not develop the momentum which allows the weight of the head to sink the nail with ease. Once you become accustomed to holding a hammer properly, you will find the work less laborious and the finished job better.

If you doubt the advice given, just tap two nails into a board—drive one by holding the handle halfway up and the other holding it properly.

The average home mechanic or do-it-yourself addict usually has a hammer of which he is very fond. As a rule, nothing goes wrong with it except that the head becomes loose. Most people do the wrong thing about this. They drive in a couple of small nails to tighten the head, or, still worse, they soak the handle in water to make it swell.

Both of these repairs are amateurish and useless. The only correct way to tighten a hammerhead is to drive in another small iron wedge such as you see in every hammer. These can be bought for a few pennies in any hardware store.

Police Hold Man, 54, In Shooting Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 54-year-old man was being held by Cleveland police today for questioning in the Sunday shooting death of Selma Frost, 30.

Frost was killed during an argument at his brother-in-law's East Side house, police said. The man being held in the case told police he had tried to act as a mediator, but Frost drew a knife and chased him.

Man Dies In Fire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire destroyed a one-story frame house on the outskirts of Cincinnati early Sunday and killed the occupant, Albert Mappes, 74. Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette.

Precautions Suggested In Shocking Situation

Electricity is all around you and a good and faithful servant it is, too. But it also is extremely dangerous if you are careless or fail to take certain precautions.

Don't assume that only extremely high voltages are lethal. Even the ordinary 110-120-volt household circuits — under certain conditions — can prove fatal. And once you're dead, you're dead, whether the voltage was high or low.

—:—

A NUMBER of factors determine how deadly the electric current is — the amount of current, its frequency, the path it takes through your body and how conductive your skin is at that moment.

On a dry day you may notice only a minor tingle if you encounter electric current. On a wet or humid day, or if your skin is wet, such an encounter could knock you down.

Keep this in mind when working in damp places with electrical items. The kitchen, bath, basement and outdoors are all dangerous areas.

Damp cement floors should be avoided. Stand on a dry rubber mat. Using electric mowers and electric snow blowers on damp lawns is potentially dangerous.

FORTUNATELY, in recent years manufacturers have been providing a means for easily grounding most portable power tools and electric appliances. This is the reason for that funny-looking three-prong plug on the wires of electric drills, hedge trimmers, even washing machines.

That odd prong, the round one, is attached to a third wire. If your house is not equipped with the proper outlet to handle such a plug, get an adapter.

This two-prong plug fits into your wall outlet, has opening for the three prongs on the tool. A wire on the adapter is connected to the screw on the switchplate of the wall outlet.

If the wall outlet itself is properly grounded, so will the appliance be grounded. If you are not sure, have your wall outlets checked by an electrician. The grounding wire is the third wire in the appliance cord.

Should a short develop, the current would find its way through that wire and blow a fuse instead of passing through your hand. Minor current leakage would be drained off through that wire.

—:—

SMALL HAND tools are also being made with insulated cases and handles to eliminate danger of electric shock.

But play safe. Rubberized boots or gloves outdoors are a smart precaution.

Check older tools and appliances for leakage. Use a test lamp, one lead against the metal frame of the plugged-in appliance, the other against an object known to be grounded, such as cold water pipe. If the bulb lights, there is a short. Try the plug both ways in the outlet when testing.

If a short is indicated, check the appliance for a bare wire that may be sagging and touching the frame.

Bending the wire back where it belongs and reconnecting it will generally eliminate the hazard. If not certain, have the appliance checked by a qualified service man.

Proper Method Suggested To Correct Step Squeaks

AP Newsfeatures

Question: Can you tell me how to eliminate squeaks in stairs? Three or four of the steps make a creaking noise every time they are stepped on.

Answer: First, so we understand each other, let's define treads, risers and stringers. Treads are the horizontal pieces on which you walk. Risers are the vertical boards under the treads. And stringers are the heavy wooden members on the sides, to which both treads and risers are attached.

If the underside of the stairway is accessible, have someone walk up and down while you inspect the underside. Using a flashlight and a piece of chalk, mark the points at which there are squeaks. You'll find that, in each case, one piece of wood has come loose from another and that a well-placed nail, screw or wedge will correct the trouble.

More often than not, a wedge between a tread and stringer has loosened. If the underside of the stairway is not visible, locate a step that has a squeak, then carefully remove the molding from under the lip of the tread.

This will show you at once whether the tread and riser are nailed together or whether there is a tongue - and - groove arrangement. If they have been nailed, have someone stand on the tread while you drive 10-penny flooring nails diagonally through the top of the tread into the riser. Three or four nails usually are required.

If the tongue - and - groove method has been used, drive thin wedges between the tongue and the groove until the joint is secure. Replace the lip molding and the job is done.

Where the nailing type of repair is made, the nailheads should be recessed with a nail-set and covered with wood putty or plastic wood, using a matching filler if the stairway is not covered with carpeting or other material.

QUESTION: I recently tried using a spray can of enamel for the first time and found it so much easier and better than painting with a brush or roller. I'd like to try spraying in the painting of our kitchen. Do you see any objection to this?

Answer: It depends on what kind of spraying you mean. If you are referring to painting the kitchen with the type of spray can you used, be prepared to spend far, far more than it would cost to paint with a roller or brush. Not only does paint in a spray can cost more, but a considerable percentage of it is wasted in the air.

If you want to try regular spraying equipment — in which you pour the paint into the container — go ahead. But you should first learn the technique of handling such equipment, as well as the safety precautions necessary for spraying indoors on such a large scale.

Here's How To Hit A Nail On The Head

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Although most people are not aware of it, there are more than 40 different kinds of hammers manufactured.

Among the less widely-known varieties are the hammers used by goldsmiths, silversmiths, dentists, stonemasons, slaters and leather workers. Of course, we are all familiar with the many weights and styles of ordinary carpenter's, machinist's and tack hammers.

Each of these tools have been carefully thought out and designed by the men who manufacture them, and the balance, weight and length of handle are exactly as they should be for each job.

The average standard carpenter's hammer has a handle about 11 inches long. It should be held with only an inch or two showing behind the grip of the fingers. Holding a hammer halfway up toward the head is wrong because it does not develop the momentum which allows the weight of the head to sink the nail with ease. Once you become accustomed to holding a hammer properly, you will find the work less laborious and the finished job better.

If you doubt the advice given, just tap two nails into a board—drive one by holding the handle halfway up and the other holding it properly.

The average home mechanic or do-it-yourself addict usually has a hammer of which he is very fond. As a rule, nothing goes wrong with it except that the head becomes loose. Most people do the wrong thing about this. They drive in a couple of small nails to tighten the head, or, still worse, they soak the handle in water to make it swell.

Both of these repairs are amateurish and useless. The only correct way to tighten a hammerhead is to drive in another small iron wedge such as you see in every hammer. These can be bought for a few pennies in any hardware store.

Police Hold Man, 54, In Shooting Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 54-year-old man was being held by Cleveland police today for questioning in the Sunday shooting death of Selma Frost, 30.

Frost was killed during an argument at his brother-in-law's East Side house, police said. The man being held in the case told police he had tried to act as a mediator, but Frost drew a knife and chased him.

Man Dies In Fire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire destroyed a one-story frame house on the outskirts of Cincinnati early Sunday and killed the occupant, Albert Mappes, 74. Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette.

Precautions Suggested In Shocking Situation

Electricity is all around you and a good and faithful servant it is, too. But it also is extremely dangerous if you are careless or fail to take certain precautions.

Police Hold Man, 54, In Shooting Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 54-year-old man was being held by Cleveland police today for questioning in the Sunday shooting death of Selma Frost, 30.

Frost was killed during an argument at his brother-in-law's East Side house, police said. The man being held in the case told police he had tried to act as a mediator, but Frost drew a knife and chased him.

Man Dies In Fire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire destroyed a one-story frame house on the outskirts of Cincinnati early Sunday and killed the occupant, Albert Mappes, 74. Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a cigarette.

Precautions Suggested In Shocking Situation

Electricity is all around you and a good and faithful servant it is, too. But it also is extremely dangerous if you are careless or fail to take certain precautions.

Don't assume that only extremely high voltages are lethal. Even the ordinary 110-120-volt household circuits — under certain conditions — can prove fatal. And once you're dead, you're dead, whether the voltage was high or low.

—:—

A NUMBER of factors determine how deadly the electric current is — the amount of current, its frequency, the path it takes through your body and how conductive your skin is at that moment.

On a dry day you may notice only a minor tingle if you encounter electric current. On a wet or humid day, or if your skin is wet, such an encounter could knock you down.

Keep this in mind when working in damp places with electrical items. The kitchen, bath, basement and outdoors are all dangerous areas.

Damp cement floors should be avoided. Stand on a dry rubber mat. Using electric mowers and electric snow blowers on damp lawns is potentially dangerous.

FORTUNATELY, in recent years manufacturers have been providing a means for easily grounding most portable power tools and electric appliances. This is the reason for that funny-looking three-prong plug on the wires of electric drills, hedge trimmers, even washing machines.

That odd prong, the round one, is attached to a third wire. If your house is not equipped with the proper outlet to handle such a plug, get an adapter.

This two-prong plug fits into your wall outlet, has opening for the three prongs on the tool. A wire on the adapter is connected to the screw on the switchplate of the wall outlet.

If the wall outlet itself is properly grounded, so will the appliance be grounded. If you are not sure, have your wall outlets checked by an electrician. The grounding wire is the third wire in the appliance cord.

Should a short develop, the current would find its way through that wire and blow a fuse instead of passing through your hand. Minor current leakage would be drained off through that wire.

—:—

SMALL HAND tools are also being made with insulated cases and handles to eliminate danger of electric shock.

But play safe. Rubberized boots or gloves outdoors are a smart precaution.

Check older tools and appliances for leakage. Use a test lamp, one lead against the metal frame of the plugged-in appliance, the other against an object known to be grounded, such as cold water pipe. If the bulb lights, there is a short. Try the plug both ways in the outlet when testing.

If a short is indicated, check the appliance for a bare wire that may be sagging and touching the frame.

Bending the wire back where it belongs and reconnecting it will generally eliminate the hazard. If not certain, have the appliance checked by a qualified service man.

Proper Method Suggested To Correct Step Squeaks

AP Newsfeatures

Question: Can you tell me how to eliminate squeaks in stairs? Three or four of the steps make a creaking noise every time they are stepped on.

Answer: First, so we understand each other, let's define treads, risers and stringers. Treads are the horizontal pieces on which you walk. Risers are the vertical boards under the treads. And stringers are the heavy wooden members on the sides, to which both treads and risers are attached.

If the underside of the stairway is accessible, have someone walk up and down while you inspect the underside. Using a flashlight and a piece of chalk, mark the points at which there are squeaks. You'll find that, in each case, one piece of wood has come loose from another and that a well-placed nail, screw or wedge will correct the trouble.

More often than not, a wedge between a tread and stringer has loosened. If the underside of the stairway is not visible, locate a step that has a squeak, then carefully remove the molding from under the lip of the tread.

This will show you at once whether the tread and riser are nailed together or whether there is a tongue - and - groove arrangement. If they have been nailed, have someone stand on the tread while you drive 10-penny flooring nails diagonally through the top of the tread into the riser. Three or four nails usually are required.

If the tongue - and - groove method has been used, drive thin wedges between the tongue and the groove until the joint is secure. Replace the lip molding and the job is done.

Where the nailing type of repair is made, the nailheads should be recessed with a nail-set and covered with wood putty or plastic wood, using a matching filler if the stairway is not covered with carpeting or other material.

QUESTION: I recently tried using a spray can of enamel for the first time and found it so much easier and better than painting with a brush or roller. I'd like to try spraying in the painting of our kitchen. Do you see any objection to this?

Answer: It depends on what kind of spraying you mean. If you are referring to painting the kitchen with the type of spray can you used, be prepared to spend far, far more than it would cost to paint with a roller or brush. Not only does paint in a spray can cost more, but a considerable percentage of it is wasted in the air.

If you want to try regular spraying equipment — in which you pour the paint into the container — go ahead. But you should first learn the technique of handling such equipment, as well as the safety precautions necessary for spraying indoors on such a large scale.

THIS FORMAL DIGNIFIED HOME design took its inspiration from the home in which Henry W. Longfellow lived. The exterior is very similar and the interior quite different—updated for modern living. Entrance foyer is large with a gracious curved staircase leading to the second floor. A portion of the foyer has a full two-story ceiling with a balcony curving around to meet the stair. The living room is large and sunken, with a log-burning fireplace and wood storage niche. Unlike the usual two-story house, this one has two bedrooms on the first floor with three more on the second floor. Home HA581M was designed by Rudolph Matern, 89 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N. Y. 11501. There are 1,244 square feet on the first floor and 1,167 on the second.

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Although most people are not aware of it, there are more than 40 different kinds of hammers manufactured.

Among the less widely-known varieties are the hammers used by goldsmiths, silversmiths, dentists, stonemasons, slaters and leather workers. Of course, we are all familiar with the many weights and styles of ordinary carpenter's, machinist's and tack hammers.

Each of these tools have been carefully thought out and designed by the men who manufacture them, and the balance, weight and length of handle are exactly as they should be for each job.

The average standard carpenter's hammer has a handle about 11 inches long. It should be held with only an inch or two showing behind the grip of the fingers. Holding a hammer halfway up toward the head is wrong because it does not develop the momentum which allows the weight of the head to sink the nail with ease. Once you become accustomed to holding a hammer properly, you will find the work less laborious and the finished job better.

If you doubt the advice given, just tap two nails into a board—drive one by holding the handle halfway up and the other holding it properly.

The average home mechanic or do-it-yourself addict usually has a hammer of which he is very fond. As a rule, nothing goes wrong with it except that the head becomes loose. Most people do the wrong thing about this. They drive in a couple of small nails to tighten the head, or, still worse, they soak the handle in water to make it swell.

Both of these repairs are amateurish and useless. The only correct way to tighten a hammerhead is to drive in another small iron wedge such as you see in every hammer. These can be bought for a few pennies in any hardware store.

Christian, Steffen Lead Potters Past South, 64-45

Each Scores 20 In Ninth Victory

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Jerry Christian, working against two men as tall as himself, scored 20 points and pulled down 11 rebounds to lead East Liverpool to a 64-45 win over Youngstown South at the new gym Saturday night.

Rick Steffen, zeroed in from the outside, also netted 20 points and Bill Montgomery added 13 as the Potters ran their record to 9-1.

South was led by its two big men, Otis Dancey and Terry Davis, who had 11 and 10 respectively. Neil Glover added 10 points for the Warriors of Pete Prokop, now 1-4.

The lead see-sawed in the first period, and East Liverpool didn't really break the game open until the final period, when the losers were forced to foul to try to get the ball.

The Potters trailed 11-10, but hit five in a row and never trailed again. South forged a 15-15 tie as the second quarter opened, but again East Liverpool scored five in a row. The lead built to 43-32 late in the third period, but South cut the gap to 46-38 as the final period opened. East Liverpool stalled for 1:50 before Montgomery hit a jumper, but Dancey countered with a close shot to make it 48-40. At this point the Potters reeled off 10 straight, with five players doing the scoring, and the game was no longer in doubt.

The Potters committed five turnovers in the first quarter, as the 2-1-2 zone defense bothered them, but settled down and lost the ball only 12 times overall, compared to 21 for the Warriors. Steffen and Montgomery's outside shooting negated the effects of the zone for the most part. Christian got most of his points inside, but the Potters couldn't work the ball in to him consistently. In contrast to the racehorse game at Warren the night before, the winners got only three fast - break baskets.

The Potter man-to-man defense prevented the Warriors from getting easy shots for the most part. South hit 40 per cent to 42 per cent for the winners. The visitors hit 7 for 8 from the foul line in the first period to stay in the game.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

People keep referring to Pittsburgh as "The City of Losers," and apparently some are believing it.

Specifically, Frank Kush and Joe Paterno, who turned down offers of coaching jobs at Pitt and the Steelers. Paterno's decision was easier to understand. He is coming off an outsanding year at Penn State, and has good prospects for next year. The Penn State coaching job is considered one of the best in the counrty, for a number of reasons. Alumni pressure is not vicious, the schedule includes a few breathers, the academic standards are not phohibitive, and recruiting is easy, with a wealth of football talent being produced by Pennsylvania high schools. And, if one likes the easy-going life, University Park is the place for it.

CONVERSELY, the Steelers show no prospects of improvement, the fans are disenchanted and anyone this side of Vince Lombardi who takes the coaching job is likely to come under fire.

Kush's decision was different. While there's little doubt that Arizona State could have handled Pitt this past year, a move to Pitt would be "a sep up" for Kush. Drawbacks are a back-breaking schedule and nettlesome academic requirements, but there is some talent on hand at Pitt, and the Panthers don't have the losing tradition that the Steelers do.

One report said Kush turned the job down because his family didn't want to leave Arizona, but when Kush said he would take the job his wife and the children were anxious to come to Pittsburgh and see the snow (after two weeks of the weather we've been having recently, I'm sure they'd be ready to go back to sunny Arizona).

INSIDERS SAY that the reason Kush changed his mind on the job that Pitt officials insisted he make Bimbo Cecconi an assistant. Cecconi is a former Pitt assistant that served on the selection committee. Possibly, the Pitt people won't be satisfied with anyone but Cecconi as head coach.

Whoever gets the Pitt and Steeler jobs will face a tough battle in refurbishing Pittsburgh's image. We wish them luck. They will need it.

E. Liverpool Reserves Rout South

Five underclassmen who had been on the varsity squad started for the East Liverpool reserve basketball game Saturday night, but the regular reserves didn't need any help in blasting the Youngstown South reserves 68-29 at the new gym.

The varsity five excelled on defense, shutting out the visitors for the first 6:15, and took an 8-2 lead after one period. But Laine Turner's regulars took over the rest of the game and blew South, 1-4, off the floor. Joe March had 11 points and Jim (El) Parson 10 in the second period as the home team, now 5-5, rolled up a 23-7 advantage. Parson ended with 18 and March 15 for the game. Parson, a guard, was also the high rebounder, with 8, as the litte Potters had a 48-45 edge or the boards. Their press forced 27 turnovers and they committed 16. They hit 47 per cent to 24 per cent for the losers, who were paced by Delvan Hancock's 12 points. Larry Hudson grabbed 11 rebounds and Carl Irving 10.

The home team bit off points in huge bites, the biggest being 15 straight from 20-9 to 35-9.

They led most of the third period, but JU surged near the end of the period and retained the lead the rest of the way. It was 45-42 with 30 seconds to go, but the Yellowjackets got the last two baskets. Turnovers by the Beavers hurt during the JU comeback.

Beaver Local won the reserve game 34-32 on a tip-in by Harper Farish with one second to play. Dave Bentz led the way with 15 points. Gary Crapman got 11 for the losers.

Christian, Steffen Lead Potters Past South, 64-45

Each Scores 20 In Ninth Victory

Jerry Christian, working against two men as tall as himself, scored 20 points and pulled down 11 rebounds to lead East Liverpool to a 64-45 win over Youngstown South at the new gym Saturday night.

Rick Steffen, zeroed in from the outside, also netted 20 points and Bill Montgomery added 13 as the Potters ran their record to 9-1.

South was led by its two big men, Otis Dancey and Terry Davis, who had 11 and 10 respectively. Neil Glover added 10 points for the Warriors of Pete Prokop, now 1-4.

The lead see-sawed in the first period, and East Liverpool didn't really break the game open until the final period, when the losers were forced to foul to try to get the ball.

The Potters trailed 11-10, but hit five in a row and never trailed again. South forged a 15-15 tie as the second quarter opened, but again East Liverpool scored five in a row. The lead built to 43-32 late in the third period, but South cut the gap to 46-38 as the final period opened. East Liverpool stalled for 1:50 before Montgomery hit a jumper, but Dancey countered with a close shot to make it 48-40. At this point the Potters reeled off 10 straight, with five players doing the scoring, and the game was no longer in doubt.

The Potters committed five turnovers in the first quarter, as the 2-1-2 zone defense bothered them, but settled down and lost the ball only 12 times overall, compared to 21 for the Warriors. Steffen and Montgomery's outside shooting negated the effects of the zone for the most part. Christian got most of his points inside, but the Potters couldn't work the ball in to him consistently. In contrast to the racehorse game at Warren the night before, the winners got only three fast - break baskets.

The Potter man-to-man defense prevented the Warriors from getting easy shots for the most part. South hit 40 per cent to 42 per cent for the winners. The visitors hit 7 for 8 from the foul line in the first period to stay in the game.

People keep referring to Pittsburgh as "The City of Losers," and apparently some are believing it.

Specifically, Frank Kush and Joe Paterno, who turned down offers of coaching jobs at Pitt and the Steelers. Paterno's decision was easier to understand. He is coming off an outsanding year at Penn State, and has good prospects for next year. The Penn State coaching job is considered one of the best in the counrty, for a number of reasons. Alumni pressure is not vicious, the schedule includes a few breathers, the academic standards are not phohibitive, and recruiting is easy, with a wealth of football talent being produced by Pennsylvania high schools. And, if one likes the easy-going life, University Park is the place for it.

CONVERSELY, the Steelers show no prospects of improvement, the fans are disenchanted and anyone this side of Vince Lombardi who takes the coaching job is likely to come under fire.

Kush's decision was different. While there's little doubt that Arizona State could have handled Pitt this past year, a move to Pitt would be "a sep up" for Kush. Drawbacks are a back-breaking schedule and nettlesome academic requirements, but there is some talent on hand at Pitt, and the Panthers don't have the losing tradition that the Steelers do.

One report said Kush turned the job down because his family didn't want to leave Arizona, but when Kush said he would take the job his wife and the children were anxious to come to Pittsburgh and see the snow (after two weeks of the weather we've been having recently, I'm sure they'd be ready to go back to sunny Arizona).

INSIDERS SAY that the reason Kush changed his mind on the job that Pitt officials insisted he make Bimbo Cecconi an assistant. Cecconi is a former Pitt assistant that served on the selection committee. Possibly, the Pitt people won't be satisfied with anyone but Cecconi as head coach.

Whoever gets the Pitt and Steeler jobs will face a tough battle in refurbishing Pittsburgh's image. We wish them luck. They will need it.

E. Liverpool Reserves Rout South

Five underclassmen who had been on the varsity squad started for the East Liverpool reserve basketball game Saturday night, but the regular reserves didn't need any help in blasting the Youngstown South reserves 68-29 at the new gym.

The varsity five excelled on defense, shutting out the visitors for the first 6:15, and took an 8-2 lead after one period. But Laine Turner's regulars took over the rest of the game and blew South, 1-4, off the floor. Joe March had 11 points and Jim (El) Parson 10 in the second period as the home team, now 5-5, rolled up a 23-7 advantage. Parson ended with 18 and March 15 for the game. Parson, a guard, was also the high rebounder, with 8, as the litte Potters had a 48-45 edge or the boards. Their press forced 27 turnovers and they committed 16. They hit 47 per cent to 24 per cent for the losers, who were paced by Delvan Hancock's 12 points. Larry Hudson grabbed 11 rebounds and Carl Irving 10.

The home team bit off points in huge bites, the biggest being 15 straight from 20-9 to 35-9.

Jets Upset Baltimore 16-7; Namath Voted MVP

4 Interceptions Kill Colt Drives

MIAMI (AP) — The New York Jets are the grand champions of pro football, the American Football League has suddenly come of age, and Joe Namath is the greatest prophet in the sports world since Cassius Clay called the rounds in which his foes would fall.

Namath, the golden arm and the jawbone of the Jets, "guaranteed" that the AFL upstarts would win the world title, and he backed it up all the way Sunday when he led New York to a spectacular 16-7 upset of the Baltimore Colts, proud kingpins of the National Football League.

"Today we won," Broadway Joe exulted as the Colts walked in utter dejection off the battle-scarred Orange Bowl turf. "We'd win tomorrow or any other time. I told them all."

In the thick gloom of the Colt dressing room, coach Don Shula said, "We've got to be men. It's just a shame for us to face the winter after all of the good things that happened to us before today.

"Namath is everything that we've heard good about him. He beat our blitz more than we did him."

In the two previous games of the World Series of pro football, the Green Bay Packers had clobbered the AFL entries, Kansas City and Oakland, and Baltimore was an 18-point favorite to keep the NFL mystique alive.

The game plan of the Colts was obvious. Their vaunted defense would take away the New York running game, opening the way for the big rush that would stop Namath. Then Earl Morrall's passes and the slashing runs of Tom Matte and Jerry Hill would carry Baltimore to the inevitable victory.

But Namath tore the whole plan apart. Right from the beginning, he established the Jet rushing attack by ramming Matt Snell down the throats of the Colts. And when Baltimore still tried the blitz, he beat it repeatedly as he bombed the Colts with 17 completions in 28 tries for 206 yards.

In fact, the Jets did to frustrated Baltimore just what the Colts had planned to do to them. Against a magnificent New York defense, Morrall and later the incomparable Johnny Unitas found all avenues to victory closed to them.

Morrall, the cinderella man who replaced the injured Unitas and won distinction as the NFL's Most Valuable Player when he guided the Colts to a 13-1 season, had been given added incentive by Namath's pregame crowing that Morrall was no better than at least five passers in the NFL.

But Morrall was unable to rise to the challenge. The scrambling Jets defenders allowed him only six completions in 17 throws for a measly 71 yards and came up with crucial interceptions that choked off every threat the Colts mustered in the three quarters Morrall was in the game.

"I don't think we did anything right," Shula said. "On defense we didn't play like we should, and our offense didn't come up with the big plays like it has all season."

Coach Weeb Ewbank, who won two NFL titles with the Colts and now has guided the Jets to the heights, said, "The Colts were great but we were greater. It was fabulous. Joe called another of his great games.

"This is the start of a new era in pro football."

Snell raced four yards for a kicked field goals of 32, 30 and nine yards, and New York held a commanding lead of 16-0 before the veteran Unitas came in for the final quarter and the Colts got on the scoreboard on a one yard run by Jerry Hill.

Big heroes of the New York defense were Randy Beverly, whose two end zone interceptions prevented what looked like sure Baltimore touchdowns, Johnny Sample, who stole another at the Jet two, and Jim Hudson, who swiped one at the New York 12.

"We're the greatest team alive," Sample shouted.

"We showed them," added defensive end Gerry Philbin. "We proved it. We knew that if we stopped them, Joe would take over."

Linebacker Larry Grantham said, "The odds were foolish. We were confident that Joe would get the points. Baltimore undersold our defense. It is so sweet."

George Sauer, who led the Jet receivers with eight catches for 133 yards, got off on the wrong foot at the start. After David Lee had punted dead to the New York three in the first period, Namath hit Sauer with a shot pass but he fumbled and Ron Porter recovered for Baltimore at the Jets' 12.

The sellout crowd of 75,377 thought this would be the start of a Colt landslide as Matte, rushing star of the Colts, rammed to the seven on the first play. But when Morrall aimed for Tom Mitchell in the end zone, the ball bounced off his left shoulder pad and was deflected to Beverly.

Then Namath took the Jets 80 yards in 12 plays, with Snell hitting for gains of seven and 13 yards, taking a 12-yard pass from Namath, and running wide with a simple handoff for the touchdown.

With two minute left in the half, the Colts were stopped by Sample's big interception. Breaking a tackle by Jim Hudson at the line of scrimmage, Matte had darted into the clear and just missed going all the way when Bill Baird caught him at the Jet 16. But when Morrall threw for Richardson in the end zone, Sample came across to pick it off.

On the last play of the half, Hudson broke off another Colt threat with an interception on a bizarre Baltimore play.

With the Colts on the Jet 41, Morrall handed off to Matte, who ran to his right and then tossed the ball back to Morrall, standing alone and unnoticed. Morrall had Jimmy Orr wide open near the goal, but failed to see him. He threw for Hill and Hudson came up with New York's third big interception of the first half.

In spite of all of Baltimore's troubles, the crowd waited expectantly for Shula to rally the team for a big second half comeback. But the Colts' fortunes failed to improve.

On the first play after the intermission, Matte fumbled and Ralph Baker recovered for New York at the Colt 33.

With Snell leading the attack, the Jets moved to a first down at the 11. Here the famed Baltimore defense finally rose up in force. Lenny Lyles ran Emerson Boozer out at the 17 for a loss of six and Bubba Smith got to Namath for a loss of eight more—one of only two times the Jet quarterback was dumped.

But the Jets salvaged three points on the drive when Turner connected with his first field goal.

Soon afterward, Namath's passes to Sauer, Snell and Pete Lammons put Turner in position for his second field goal to make it 13-0. Turner's third, in the last quarter, came after a drive in which Namath hit Sauer with passes good for 10 and 40 yards.

Unitas, sidelined all through the regular season with an ailing arm, was ready to go back into action and near the end of the third period, when it was obvious that Morrall couldn't bring the Colts back, Shula called on Unitas for the miracle.

The old master sparked a brilliant 80-yard touchdown march that ended when Hill scored from the one. But the points came hard as the Jet defense, best in the AFL, held twice at the one.

There was still time, with 3:14 left on the clock, and Baltimore hopes remained alive when an onside kick gave the Colts possession at the Jet 44. Unitas took them to the 19 but New York's defense lowered the boom by breaking up three Unitas passes in a row.

"I was confident that I could move them and I did," said Unitas, one of the all-time greats of the NFL. "Time just ran out on us."

"Eighteen point favorites?" Namath shouted through the din of the New York dressing room. "Never were so many people so wrong."

The victorious Jets received $15,000 each to sweeten the night's work. The Colts got $7,500 a man. Namath said before the game the money "doesn't mean a thing."

"The most important thing to me," said the game's flamboyant hero, "is to be known as the quarterback of the greatest team in pro football."

And that he is.

Jets Upset Baltimore 16-7; Namath Voted MVP

4 Interceptions Kill Colt Drives

MIAMI (AP) — The New York Jets are the grand champions of pro football, the American Football League has suddenly come of age, and Joe Namath is the greatest prophet in the sports world since Cassius Clay called the rounds in which his foes would fall.

Namath, the golden arm and the jawbone of the Jets, "guaranteed" that the AFL upstarts would win the world title, and he backed it up all the way Sunday when he led New York to a spectacular 16-7 upset of the Baltimore Colts, proud kingpins of the National Football League.

"Today we won," Broadway Joe exulted as the Colts walked in utter dejection off the battle-scarred Orange Bowl turf. "We'd win tomorrow or any other time. I told them all."

In the thick gloom of the Colt dressing room, coach Don Shula said, "We've got to be men. It's just a shame for us to face the winter after all of the good things that happened to us before today.

"Namath is everything that we've heard good about him. He beat our blitz more than we did him."

In the two previous games of the World Series of pro football, the Green Bay Packers had clobbered the AFL entries, Kansas City and Oakland, and Baltimore was an 18-point favorite to keep the NFL mystique alive.

The game plan of the Colts was obvious. Their vaunted defense would take away the New York running game, opening the way for the big rush that would stop Namath. Then Earl Morrall's passes and the slashing runs of Tom Matte and Jerry Hill would carry Baltimore to the inevitable victory.

But Namath tore the whole plan apart. Right from the beginning, he established the Jet rushing attack by ramming Matt Snell down the throats of the Colts. And when Baltimore still tried the blitz, he beat it repeatedly as he bombed the Colts with 17 completions in 28 tries for 206 yards.

In fact, the Jets did to frustrated Baltimore just what the Colts had planned to do to them. Against a magnificent New York defense, Morrall and later the incomparable Johnny Unitas found all avenues to victory closed to them.

Morrall, the cinderella man who replaced the injured Unitas and won distinction as the NFL's Most Valuable Player when he guided the Colts to a 13-1 season, had been given added incentive by Namath's pregame crowing that Morrall was no better than at least five passers in the NFL.

But Morrall was unable to rise to the challenge. The scrambling Jets defenders allowed him only six completions in 17 throws for a measly 71 yards and came up with crucial interceptions that choked off every threat the Colts mustered in the three quarters Morrall was in the game.

"I don't think we did anything right," Shula said. "On defense we didn't play like we should, and our offense didn't come up with the big plays like it has all season."

Coach Weeb Ewbank, who won two NFL titles with the Colts and now has guided the Jets to the heights, said, "The Colts were great but we were greater. It was fabulous. Joe called another of his great games.

"This is the start of a new era in pro football."

Snell raced four yards for a kicked field goals of 32, 30 and nine yards, and New York held a commanding lead of 16-0 before the veteran Unitas came in for the final quarter and the Colts got on the scoreboard on a one yard run by Jerry Hill.

Big heroes of the New York defense were Randy Beverly, whose two end zone interceptions prevented what looked like sure Baltimore touchdowns, Johnny Sample, who stole another at the Jet two, and Jim Hudson, who swiped one at the New York 12.

"We're the greatest team alive," Sample shouted.

"We showed them," added defensive end Gerry Philbin. "We proved it. We knew that if we stopped them, Joe would take over."

Linebacker Larry Grantham said, "The odds were foolish. We were confident that Joe would get the points. Baltimore undersold our defense. It is so sweet."

George Sauer, who led the Jet receivers with eight catches for 133 yards, got off on the wrong foot at the start. After David Lee had punted dead to the New York three in the first period, Namath hit Sauer with a shot pass but he fumbled and Ron Porter recovered for Baltimore at the Jets' 12.

The sellout crowd of 75,377 thought this would be the start of a Colt landslide as Matte, rushing star of the Colts, rammed to the seven on the first play. But when Morrall aimed for Tom Mitchell in the end zone, the ball bounced off his left shoulder pad and was deflected to Beverly.

Then Namath took the Jets 80 yards in 12 plays, with Snell hitting for gains of seven and 13 yards, taking a 12-yard pass from Namath, and running wide with a simple handoff for the touchdown.

With two minute left in the half, the Colts were stopped by Sample's big interception. Breaking a tackle by Jim Hudson at the line of scrimmage, Matte had darted into the clear and just missed going all the way when Bill Baird caught him at the Jet 16. But when Morrall threw for Richardson in the end zone, Sample came across to pick it off.

On the last play of the half, Hudson broke off another Colt threat with an interception on a bizarre Baltimore play.

With the Colts on the Jet 41, Morrall handed off to Matte, who ran to his right and then tossed the ball back to Morrall, standing alone and unnoticed. Morrall had Jimmy Orr wide open near the goal, but failed to see him. He threw for Hill and Hudson came up with New York's third big interception of the first half.

In spite of all of Baltimore's troubles, the crowd waited expectantly for Shula to rally the team for a big second half comeback. But the Colts' fortunes failed to improve.

On the first play after the intermission, Matte fumbled and Ralph Baker recovered for New York at the Colt 33.

With Snell leading the attack, the Jets moved to a first down at the 11. Here the famed Baltimore defense finally rose up in force. Lenny Lyles ran Emerson Boozer out at the 17 for a loss of six and Bubba Smith got to Namath for a loss of eight more—one of only two times the Jet quarterback was dumped.

But the Jets salvaged three points on the drive when Turner connected with his first field goal.

Soon afterward, Namath's passes to Sauer, Snell and Pete Lammons put Turner in position for his second field goal to make it 13-0. Turner's third, in the last quarter, came after a drive in which Namath hit Sauer with passes good for 10 and 40 yards.

Unitas, sidelined all through the regular season with an ailing arm, was ready to go back into action and near the end of the third period, when it was obvious that Morrall couldn't bring the Colts back, Shula called on Unitas for the miracle.

The old master sparked a brilliant 80-yard touchdown march that ended when Hill scored from the one. But the points came hard as the Jet defense, best in the AFL, held twice at the one.

There was still time, with 3:14 left on the clock, and Baltimore hopes remained alive when an onside kick gave the Colts possession at the Jet 44. Unitas took them to the 19 but New York's defense lowered the boom by breaking up three Unitas passes in a row.

"I was confident that I could move them and I did," said Unitas, one of the all-time greats of the NFL. "Time just ran out on us."

"Eighteen point favorites?" Namath shouted through the din of the New York dressing room. "Never were so many people so wrong."

The victorious Jets received $15,000 each to sweeten the night's work. The Colts got $7,500 a man. Namath said before the game the money "doesn't mean a thing."

"The most important thing to me," said the game's flamboyant hero, "is to be known as the quarterback of the greatest team in pro football."

And that he is.

Six Cage Yogis Record 9-1 Marks, Miss Poland

The Review Cage Yogis enjoyed a good week this week, as most games went according to form.

Everyone went 9-1 with the exception of Rose Nuzzo, 8-2, and Pete Weaver, 7-3. The consensus missed only on Poland's 59-49 win over East Palestine, while the Midland - Hopewell game was a 4-4 split. Chuck Campbell and Lorin Howard picked Poland's win, but missed Midland's 70-58 triumph over Hopewell. Nuzzo and Weaver also fell with Hopewell, while Weaver missed East Liverpool's 80-70 win over Warren Western Reserve. Turk Pierce, Ed Clutter, Bob Duffy and Bob Shaffer missed only the Poland-East Palestine clash.

Everyone was right on Wellsville's 74-47 win over Oak Glen, Toronto's 62 44 win over Beaver Local, Crestview's 75-64 win over Southern, East Liverpool's 65-46 win over Youngstown South, Jefferson Union's 49-42 win over Beaver Local, Lisbon's 61-57 win over Columbiana and Salem's 77-44 win over Wellsville.

Sifford Beats Henning For L.A. Open Golf Title

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charlie Sifford is the winner of the 43rd annual $100,000 Los Angles open golf Tournament, and officially, he won it Sunday in a one-hole sudden death playoff with Harold Henning of South Africa.

In a sense, however, 45-year-old Charlie, the first Negro to make it in professional golf, won the $20,000 in the final nine holes of the first round last Thursday.

His rounds for the 72 holes were 63-71-71--71-276 for the par 36-35-71- Rancho Park Golf course.

What Charlie did was shoot a fantastic 28 on the back nine Thursday, seven under par which he achieved in only six holes.

What Charlie did after that was tame par by only one stroke for the ensuing 63 holes, not counting the birdie putt in the extra hole playoff that sewed it up.

Par golf after that 28 eruption proved good enough to repulse the enemy.

Henning, a gracious loser, had rounds of 74-68-66-68-276, and said, "I'm happy to get a tie." Henning won $11,000.

In the closing moments of the drama it was all Sifford and the 35-year-old Henning, whose lone American victory was in the Texas open in 1966.

Defending champion Billy Casper made a run with a 76. So did Australia's Bruce Devlin. They tied for third at 277, each won $900.

U.S. Open champion Les Trevino had fun with the galleries. But his 74 gave him 293 and $133.33 in the new PGA format which guarantees every finisher at least something.

In Sifford's case, it seems he and the absent Julius Boros kid each other over which is the older. Boros actually is 48.

But is was Boros, Sifford revealed, who corrected Sifford's famous hook by readjusting his grip on the club. The advice came last year when Boros and Sifford played in an exhibition.

Elizabeth Griscom was better known as Betsy Ross.

Missouri Upsets Kansas; Kentucky Posts 999th

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

In the viewpoint of the University of Kentucky, the race to be the first team to win 1,000 college basketball games is long since over. Kansas and Oregon State are only also-rans.

Kentucky, ranked No. 7, by its own count has 1,004 all time victories thanks to beating Florida 88-67 Saturday night. The National Collegiate Athletic Association, however, says Kentucky has won only 999 games but could make it 1,000 by taking Georgia Monday night

Kansas, No. 5 upset by Missouri 47-46 by a goal scored by Theo Franks with seven seconds to go, has won 997, officially. The Jayhawks go to Iowa State Monday night to try to make it 998.

Oregon State is virtually out of contention with 993. The Beavers were put down by mighty No. 1 UCLA, led by Lew Alcindor, 83-64.

Tht discrepancy between the NCCA'a figures on Kentucky's overall total of victories and Kentucky's own reckoning comes about this way. Adolph Rupp took his team to Israel for a post-season university tournament in 1966 at the behest of the NCAA. There the Wildcats won five games. The NCAA won't count these because they were post-season. Rupp demands that they should because he was playing by NCAA request against college teams.

The other three games in the eight that separate the views of the NCAA and Kentucky were played in the early 1900's. Kentucky had the names of the opponents but not the scores, so the NCAA has never recognized them. Then Russell Rice of the Kentucky public relations staff dug out the scores from old newspaper files and now Kentucky has applied for NCAA recognition.

As a sort of compromise between the 1,004 games claimed by Kentucky, and the 996 recognized by the NCAA, Kentucky brought out a cake Saturday night with 1,000 candles on it after Dan Issel had led Kentucky's rout of Florida by scoring 20 points.

UCLA's victory over Oregon State was its 11th of the season and 27th in a row. Lew Alcindor scored 29 points and dominated the game.

Kansas was the only victim among the nation's Top Ten although St. John's of New York was idle.

No. 2 North Carolina easily disposed of Virginia State 83-63, third ranked Santa Clara boosted its season's record to 15-0 by crushing the University of the Pacific 67-56, and Illinois, No. 4, beat No. 12 Northwestern 82-77.

Davidson, No. 5, took it easy in running away from West Virginia 102-71, and Villanova, No. 9, won over St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania 87-62 with Howard Porter, a sophomore, making 36 points and snaring 26 rebounds. The tenth ranked team, New Mexico State, pushed its season's record to 14-0 by running over Santa Fe 117-67.

Although aside from Kansas' loss, form prevailed in the Top Ten there were some disturbances in the next ten places.

Detroit, which held the 13th spot, was nosed out by Dayton 64-62. Cincinnati No. 19, beat Louisville, the No. 14 team, 87-75, and Drake, No. 18, lost to Tulsa, 86-78.

The rest of the list followed form. LaSalle, No. 11, beat Syracuse 83-63; Duquesne, No. 15, downed Creighton 66-59; Ohio State, holding the 16th spot, whipped Wisconsin 84-69; Notre Dame, No. 17, edged ahead of DePaul 66-60; and No. 20 Marquette beat Xavier 82-69.

Campbell Leads North Over South

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Players on the North squad voted to give the game ball to their coach after their 27-16 victory over the South in the annual Senior Bowl game — something an all-star team seldom does.

Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants, who coached the Yankees to their victory Saturday, said, "I am touched by the gesture and consider this week one of the biggest thrills of my football life."

More than 42,000 fans watched Bob Campbell of Penn State repeatedly tear through the South's line. He was voted the outstanding back.

But it was Ken Juskowich of West Virginia who turned the tide for the North.

The South was leading 16-14 in the third period, but Juskowich's 37-yard field goal — longest ever in the Senior Bowl — put the North ahead.

Moments later, Ron Prichard of Arizona State recovered a South fumble two yards out and Campbell plunged over for the decisive touchdown.

Juskowich later kicked a 20-yard goal to cinch the victory.

Charlie Winner of the St. Louis Cardinals, who coached the South, said the South lost two fumbles which led to touchdowns that spelled the difference.

Each player on the winning team receives $1,000, while each losing player receives $750.

Six Cage Yogis Record 9-1 Marks, Miss Poland

The Review Cage Yogis enjoyed a good week this week, as most games went according to form.

Everyone went 9-1 with the exception of Rose Nuzzo, 8-2, and Pete Weaver, 7-3. The consensus missed only on Poland's 59-49 win over East Palestine, while the Midland - Hopewell game was a 4-4 split. Chuck Campbell and Lorin Howard picked Poland's win, but missed Midland's 70-58 triumph over Hopewell. Nuzzo and Weaver also fell with Hopewell, while Weaver missed East Liverpool's 80-70 win over Warren Western Reserve. Turk Pierce, Ed Clutter, Bob Duffy and Bob Shaffer missed only the Poland-East Palestine clash.

Everyone was right on Wellsville's 74-47 win over Oak Glen, Toronto's 62 44 win over Beaver Local, Crestview's 75-64 win over Southern, East Liverpool's 65-46 win over Youngstown South, Jefferson Union's 49-42 win over Beaver Local, Lisbon's 61-57 win over Columbiana and Salem's 77-44 win over Wellsville.

Sifford Beats Henning For L.A. Open Golf Title

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charlie Sifford is the winner of the 43rd annual $100,000 Los Angles open golf Tournament, and officially, he won it Sunday in a one-hole sudden death playoff with Harold Henning of South Africa.

In a sense, however, 45-year-old Charlie, the first Negro to make it in professional golf, won the $20,000 in the final nine holes of the first round last Thursday.

His rounds for the 72 holes were 63-71-71-71-276 for the par 36-35-71- Rancho Park Golf course.

What Charlie did was shoot a fantastic 28 on the back nine Thursday, seven under par which he achieved in only six holes.

What Charlie did after that was tame par by only one stroke for the ensuing 63 holes, not counting the birdie putt in the extra hole playoff that sewed it up.

Par golf after that 28 eruption proved good enough to repulse the enemy.

Henning, a gracious loser, had rounds of 74-68-66-68-276, and said, "I'm happy to get a tie." Henning won $11,000.

In the closing moments of the drama it was all Sifford and the 35-year-old Henning, whose lone American victory was in the Texas open in 1966.

Defending champion Billy Casper made a run with a 76. So did Australia's Bruce Devlin. They tied for third at 277, each won $900.

U.S. Open champion Les Trevino had fun with the galleries. But his 74 gave him 293 and $133.33 in the new PGA format which guarantees every finisher at least something.

In Sifford's case, it seems he and the absent Julius Boros kid each other over which is the older. Boros actually is 48.

But is was Boros, Sifford revealed, who corrected Sifford's famous hook by readjusting his grip on the club. The advice came last year when Boros and Sifford played in an exhibition.

Elizabeth Griscom was better known as Betsy Ross.

Missouri Upsets Kansas; Kentucky Posts 999th

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

In the viewpoint of the University of Kentucky, the race to be the first team to win 1,000 college basketball games is long since over. Kansas and Oregon State are only also-rans.

Kentucky, ranked No. 7, by its own count has 1,004 all time victories thanks to beating Florida 88-67 Saturday night. The National Collegiate Athletic Association, however, says Kentucky has won only 999 games but could make it 1,000 by taking Georgia Monday night.

Kansas, No. 5 upset by Missouri 47-46 by a goal scored by Theo Franks with seven seconds to go, has won 997, officially. The Jayhawks go to Iowa State Monday night to try to make it 998.

Oregon State is virtually out of contention with 993. The Beavers were put down by mighty No. 1 UCLA, led by Lew Alcindor, 83-64.

Tht discrepancy between the NCCA'a figures on Kentucky's overall total of victories and Kentucky's own reckoning comes about this way. Adolph Rupp took his team to Israel for a post-season university tournament in 1966 at the behest of the NCAA. There the Wildcats won five games. The NCAA won't count these because they were post-season. Rupp demands that they should because he was playing by NCAA request against college teams.

The other three games in the eight that separate the views of the NCAA and Kentucky were played in the early 1900's. Kentucky had the names of the opponents but not the scores, so the NCAA has never recognized them. Then Russell Rice of the Kentucky public relations staff dug out the scores from old newspaper files and now Kentucky has applied for NCAA recognition.

As a sort of compromise between the 1,004 games claimed by Kentucky, and the 996 recognized by the NCAA, Kentucky brought out a cake Saturday night with 1,000 candles on it after Dan Issel had led Kentucky's rout of Florida by scoring 20 points.

UCLA's victory over Oregon State was its 11th of the season and 27th in a row. Lew Alcindor scored 29 points and dominated the game.

Kansas was the only victim among the nation's Top Ten although St. John's of New York was idle.

No. 2 North Carolina easily disposed of Virginia State 83-63, third ranked Santa Clara boosted its season's record to 15-0 by crushing the University of the Pacific 67-56, and Illinois, No. 4, beat No. 12 Northwestern 82-77.

Davidson, No. 5, took it easy in running away from West Virginia 102-71, and Villanova, No. 9, won over St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania 87-62 with Howard Porter, a sophomore, making 36 points and snaring 26 rebounds. The tenth ranked team, New Mexico State, pushed its season's record to 14-0 by running over Santa Fe 117-67.

Although aside from Kansas' loss, form prevailed in the Top Ten there were some disturbances in the next ten places.

Detroit, which held the 13th spot, was nosed out by Dayton 64-62. Cincinnati No. 19, beat Louisville, the No. 14 team, 87-75, and Drake, No. 18, lost to Tulsa, 86-73.

The rest of the list followed form. LaSalle, No. 11, beat Syracuse 83-63; Duquesne, No. 15, downed Creighton 66-59; Ohio State, holding the 16th spot, whipped Wisconsin 84-69; Notre Dame, No. 17, edged ahead of DePaul 66-60; and No. 20 Marquette beat Xavier 82-69.

Campbell Leads North Over South

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Players on the North squad voted to give the game ball to their coach after their 27-16 victory over the South in the annual Senior Bowl game — something an all-star team seldom does.

Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants, who coached the Yankees to their victory Saturday, said, "I am touched by the gesture and consider this week one of the biggest thrills of my football life."

More than 42,000 fans watched Bob Campbell of Penn State repeatedly tear through the South's line. He was voted the outstanding back.

But it was Ken Juskowich of West Virginia who turned the tide for the North.

The South was leading 16-14 in the third period, but Juskowich's 37-yard field goal — longest ever in the Senior Bowl — put the North ahead.

Moments later, Ron Prichard of Arizona State recovered a South fumble two yards out and Campbell plunged over for the decisive touchdown.

Juskowich later kicked a 20-yard goal to cinch the victory.

Charlie Winner of the St. Louis Cardinals, who coached the South, said the South lost two fumbles which led to touchdowns that spelled the difference.

Each player on the winning team receives $1,000, while each losing player receives $750.

Junior Editors Quiz on ATOMS

QUESTION: How small is an atom and what's inside it?

ANSWER: We are all familiar enough with atomic bombs and the peaceful use of atomic power to know that such things as atoms really exist. Nevertheless, what scientists tell us about them seems so strange that it is hard to believe. Our picture at top gives an idea of their size. Jerry's big brother, home from college, tells him that a toy balloon may contain 100 million million billion hydrogen atoms. Think how inconceivably small a single atom must be! Drawing (1) suggests what's inside the hydrogen atom. In the center it is a particle called the nucleus, or proton. It has a positive electrical charge. Around it, a smaller particle called an electron circles at terrific speed. This has a negative electric charge. Since negative and positive electric poles attract each other, why don't electrons and protons crash together? The electrons whirl around the protons at such tremendous speed that centrifugal force, pushing outward, balances the attraction and keeps them in a steady orbit. The same principle keeps the earth from being pulled toward the sun by the force of gravity (2). Look up atom in an encyclopedia to understand more.

(Lisa Farrell of Amsterdam, N. Y., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Jan. 13, the 13th day of 1969. There are 352 days left in the year

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1953 came first word of the so-called "Doctor's Plot," in which nine physicians were arrested and charged with plotting the deaths of Soviet leaders. The arrests were interpreted as meaning Josef Stalin was planning another purge. Stalin died in March, however, and the doctor's were later released.

On this date-

In 1733 James Oglethorpe and some 130 English Colonists arrived in South Carolina with a charter to establish a settlement in what is now the State of Georgia.

In 1834 Horatio Alger, author of the "rags to riches" stories, was born.

In 1864 composer Stephen Foster died penniless in New York's Bellevue Hospital.

One year ago. Rampaging winter weather hit the Southeast with a crippling sleet storm, the Midwest with heavy snow, the North Pacific with gale winds and northern states with subzero cold.
